Audience figures give boost to theatre

AUDIENCES at Cannock's theatre have rocketed to an all-time high.

Bosses say dance academies and high profile shows have boosted attendances at the Prince of Wales Centre, which is celebrating its 30th anniversary.

From April to June this year the number of visitors shot up to 14,311 – from 8,476 during the same period in 2013. The Church Street theatre was also in use 80.1 per cent of the available time from April to June, up from 71.8 per cent the previous year.

Shows this year have included Joe McElderry, Ken Dodd and Strictly stars Pasha and Katya.

A report to the Cannock Chase Council states: "The theatre has experienced an excellent start to this financial year with total visits and attendances surpassing all previous years."

"A varied programme of commercial and community programmes ensure that the theatre continues to appeal to a wide range of residents and visitors to the district and satisfaction rates have improved by one per cent this year to 94 per cent."

Manager Richard Kay said: "We are obviously delighted with the figures and we have had some very healthy attendances."

SHOT OFFICER HAS SURGERY

Report by Lisa O'Brien

A POLICE sergeant shot in the eye in Rugeley has undergone surgery and is now recovering in Queen Elizabeth Hospital in Birmingham.

Police have confirmed the 34-year-old man detained at the scene of the shooting under the Mental Health Act has now been taken to a psychiatric unit for treatment.

He will be questioned at a later date when he has been assessed as being fit enough to do so. The shooting happened on Sunday at around 7.30pm.

The sergeant had been called to help paramedics out at a property in Wat Tyler Close.

A reminder of dangers police face

POLICE chiefs say the injuries suffered by a sergeant after he was shot in the eye is a reminder of the danger that officers face on a daily basis.

Chief Inspector Stephen Morrey, the local policing commander for the district said: "This is a distressing incident whereby one of my officers has been injured whilst protecting members of the public."

"While we are fortunate that incidents like this are very rare, it is a prudent reminder of the danger that officers face daily in their lawful duty to protect members of our communities."

"The incident is now being investigated by detectives and we are not seeking anybody else in relation to this matter. The local policing team and I will be supporting and reassuring the community as a result of the incident."

Residents in the area have spoke of their shock at what happened and said people living in the area had been asked to remain in their homes.

Alison McQueen, of Grindcobbe Grove, said: "I saw some police cars outside in the morning and it all taped off."

"I never heard anything but I was wondering what was going on."

There was a stand off that lasted about six hours and it is claimed the officer may have been hit with a rubber bullet. Staffordshire Police say their colleague was injured while protecting the public.

The injured officer is well known in the area having served in Cannock for a number of years.

Neighbours said they saw several police cars and armed officers at the scene and had been asked to stay in their homes.

Mother-of-two Alison Griffiths, aged 48, of Wat Tyler Close, said: "The police blocked the road off. There was a lot of commotion with the flashing lights outside."

"There was a lot of shouting and armed police outside. There was a man hanging out the window of the flat. The police said he had to come out with his hands on his head."

Safety

Paul Astell, 23, who also lives in Wat Tyler Close, added: "I was outside in the early hours and got told to go back inside for my own safety."

"I didn't have a clue what was happening. There were eight to 10 police cars and armed officers around."

"I heard them shouting at somebody. I woke up in the morning and it had been taped off."

Chief Inspector Stephen Morrey said: "The sergeant has done what the public would expect without hesitation. He should be commended for carrying out his duty in this way."

"My thoughts are currently with the officer and his family hoping that the injury is not permanent. We are currently supporting his family and we are all hoping that he is able to make a swift recovery."

Any witnesses should call police on 101.

150 jobs to go at JCB before Christmas

JOBS at the Rugeley site of digger giant JCB are at risk, the company has announced.

The firm has revealed it is to cut 150 posts before Christmas. Most of them will be lost in Staffordshire.

Bosses blame the downturn in the global construction equipment market. They say the 'vast majority' of positions at Rugeley are at Rugeley and in Rocester.

It has not been announced how many jobs will go from Rugeley but JCB has previously revealed proposals to close the site as part of £150m expansion plans which will see a new 350,000 sq ft facility built in Beamhurst, Staffordshire.

A 45-day consultation with staff will be launched at the start of next month, with the jobs set to go by the middle of December.

Chief executive Graeme Macdonald said: "There is a growing consensus that a global economic slowdown could be starting and it is clear JCB's full year sales in 2014 will be less than anticipated."

"The outlook is unlikely to improve and consequently our cost base is being restructured to align overheads to reduced sales volumes, which will regrettably mean up to 150 staff redundancies."

Runners raise Newlife cash

SEVENTY runners helped to raise more than £5,000 for Cannock's Newlife charity at the Great Birmingham Run.

Among the group of participants on Sunday was Cannock Chase Conservative prospective parliamentary candidate Amanda Milling and five workers from Central England Co-Operative.

Newlife fundraising manager Nora Smith said: "We are very grateful for the support of all our runners."

Toll road usage on the increase

AN extra 1,000 cars and lorries are using the M6 Toll in Staffordshire each day, according to latest figures. An average of 45,473 vehicles used the toll road daily from July to September this year – up by 2.27 per cent on last year's 44,462. Weekend usage has shown the biggest surge and bosses said they were delighted with the overall increase. Tonm Fanning, chief executive of operators Midland Expressway Ltd (MEL) said: "Traffic by its nature is very seasonal and we are pleased to see continued growth in all class categories. "Traffic grew some 2.27 per cent across all days with strong performance particularly at weekends with traffic up 6.65 per cent. "This underlines the confidence that our customers place in our service as a reliable alternative to the unpredictable conditions that continue daily on the competing free section of the M6."

Usage from Monday to Friday is up by 0.95 per cent from 48,309 a day to 48,767. During weekends and public holidays, 37,543 vehicles are travelling on the toll each day, up by 6.65 per cent from 35,201. The toll motorway saw a surge in use last year, due to the continuing roadworks on the M6 and a free month offered to vehicle fleets run by members of the Road Haulage Association. Midland Expressway's annual financial report revealed that toll revenue in 2013 rose 13.5 per cent to £65.9m. Traffic increased 12.1 per cent to 14.65 million vehicles during the year, up 1.6 million on 2012.

Conman appeals over jail term for fraud

A CROOKED financial adviser who was jailed for defrauding a string of victims is appealing against his sentence.

Mark Lewis, aged 50, swindled hundreds of thousands of pounds, with victims even including an uncle and a cousin, who lost £100,000 between them.

He promised up to 25 per cent returns on investments in property schemes and solar panels but instead pocketed the cash.

Dangers of fireworks highlighted

FIREFIGHTERS have launched a hard-hitting campaign to highlight the risks that fireworks pose to young people.

Community Safety Officers and volunteers will visit 32 schools across Cannock, Rugeley, South Staffordshire and Stafford as part of Operation Good Guy. They will tell pupils about staying safe during the Bonfire Night celebrations.

The high-profile initiative features information on the hazards associated with bonfires and the unsafe use of fireworks.

Carmel Warren, Prevention Manager for the west of the county, said: "Operation Good Guy is designed to be hard-hitting so that young people are aware of the possible consequences of, quite literally, playing with fire."

"We will also warn them that they can face a £500 fine if they set fireworks off in the street, on the highway or in a public place."

"Anyone under 18-years-old who is found in possession of a firework or anyone, of any age, who is caught setting off a firework between 11pm and 7am, apart from on Bonfire Night, New Year's Eve or Diwali, can be given an £80 fine."

His victims, many of them retired, lost life savings, pension pots, money put aside for grandchildren's education and in one case a beloved father's legacy.

Several turned up at Stafford Crown Court in May to see Lewis, of Oakdene Close, Hednesford, sentenced to just over six years behind bars.

He had pleaded guilty to 16 charges of defrauding £478,000 from eight victims, from May 2008 to September 2012. While Lewis was on bail over the property fraud, he began another con involving investment in solar panels.

Remorse

It is understood Lewis is receiving legal aid to make his appeal.

One victim, who did not wish to be named, said: "It's a scandal. His defence barrister claimed he was full of remorse but this certainly doesn't show any remorse. It's an 'up yours' to all his victims."

The woman and her husband, who were swindled out of £100,000, received just £169 in compensation.

Lewis was originally a partner in a legitimate mortgage advice business in Cannock but began to con people when he had set up on his own.

He claimed their cash would be invested in properties that would be renovated and sold on at a profit. Only one property was ever bought.

Bus fleet's 'Royal' approval

Bridgtown Primary School pupils cheer the unveiling of the new Sapphire buses

A MILLION pounds has been spent on a fleet of nine new Arriva buses which feature wi-fi internet and leather seats.

The 'Sapphire' vehicles come into use on Sunday (October 26) and are among the first in the region.

There is currently only one other Sapphire service in the Midlands between Tamworth and Birmingham.

The buses will be used on four routes through Cannock, Great Wyrley, Cheslyn Hay, Bloxwich and Walsall. Service numbers 1, 2, 2a and 2e will get the new facilities.

They were unveiled this week in Cannock town centre as a Kate and Wills lookalike were cheered on by a group of pupils from Bridgtown Primary School. The buses include power points to charge phones and laptops, free wi-fi, and leather seats. There will also be a new electronic display that announces the name of the next stop.

Buses will run from Cannock town centre through to Hatherton Road in Walsall, starting at 6.15am. These are among 15 Sapphire services across the country and a total of 174 buses.

Alex Perry, managing director at Arriva Midlands, said: "We're delighted to be bringing the Sapphire brand to the area – we're extremely excited to be announcing the investment."

"The bus service will offer our customers a new and improved service."

Hospital staff are marking 23 years

FOUR Cannock Hospital receptionists are celebrating 23 years of helping patients and visitors this month.

They have looked after Level 2 reception desk since the Brunswick Road hospital opened its doors in October 1991.

Joyce Maaskant, Jean Haywood, Heather Casserley and Olga Darby have been on hand to give directions and other help since the hospital, formerly known as Cannock Community Hospital, started life.

Jan will also be there on the first day under The Royal Wolverhampton NHS Trust on November 1.

Olga, who has co-ordinated the volunteers ever since they started, said: "I have run the desk since the beginning, but along the way I have had lots of help. "The Trust's Volunteer Co-ordinator Lisa James has been outstanding and of course the volunteers past and present have always given me and the hospital 100 per cent."

Hospital Trust chief executive Maggie Oldham said: "I would like to thank the ladies and all their colleagues on behalf of staff and patients, for the wonderful support they have given us over this time."

There are currently double yellow lines in Beecroft Road but under the new plans cars could stop for 30 minutes on a short stretch. The new rules would come into force from October 29.

It follows concerns that people are parking illegally in Beecroft Road to visit the nearby hospital or Cannock Council offices.

First phase of homes plan given go-ahead

THE first phase of plans to build 900 homes in Hednesford has been given the go-ahead by councillors.

Cannock Chase Council's planning committee approved the plans for the first 119 homes off Pye Green Road.

Plans for the Barratt Homes development were amended to reduce the number of initial homes from 125 following concerns that the overall development is too big for the town.

They will be built before 2016 and are part of a development to include a new school, shops and the expansion of roads. The plans were approved with conditions regarding more access.

Councillor John Kraujalis said he still believed the amount of homes was too high and councillors raised concerns over highways issues. He said: "To take six homes off the plans seems like nothing more than a token gesture."

Richard Pitt, planning officer for Barratt Homes said: "We look forward to bringing these proposals to the area."

Original plans were to build 700 properties on the site but an extra 200 have since been added to the proposals.

APC's £6m investment ahead of Christmas

A £6MILLION investment allowing a delivery group to secure extra land and new equipment at its parcel sorting centre has been announced.

APC Overnight is already recruiting another 140 staff as it prepares for what it predicts could be its busiest-ever festive season.

The company has now bought a 2.5 acre plot of land next to its base, on Cannock's Kingswood Lakeside business park, so it can park more lorries and vans delivering and picking up parcels. It has also invested in new equipment called 'sky sorters' - high level conveyor belt systems - to massively accelerate its speed in sorting the parcels.

APC chief executive Karl Brown said: "The level of investment we are making ahead of this year's peak period is the largest the organisation has ever made aside from the construction of our bespoke national sortation centre."

"This underlines our commitment to delivering exceptionally high service levels for our customers."

APC moved into its new base a year ago from its previous home in Essington. The shift to the 12-acre site and its purpose-built 150,000 sq ft distribution building has allowed APC to more than double its workforce over the last 18 months, to more than 400.

It is taking on the extra 140 staff for its peak Christmas period, when it will be sorting around 150,000 parcels a night for its 115 depots around the country.

Part of the money has gone on buying a 2.5 acre plot of land next to the sortation centre which will increase the number of vehicles it can cater for - it will be able to accommodate up to 92 lorries at anyone time.

It has also bought two new sky sorters, which are currently being installed. The firm's current conveyor system is able to process 20,000 - 25,000 MailPacks and CourierPacks per evening.

The two new sky sorters, which will be installed directly above the existing system, will increase capacity to between 15,000 and 20,000 parcels per hour from the end of this month.

Mystery over deaths of mother and daughter

MYSTERY surrounds the deaths of a mother and daughter who were discovered at their home in Burntwood, an inquest heard.

Patricia Glaze and Susan Martin were both found with fractures but a police investigation has revealed there was no break-in. Officers also believe there is no one else involved in their deaths.

It is believed they could have been dead for weeks before their bodies were discovered in St Giles Road.

Cannock Coroner's Court heard both had alcohol issues and were found lying next to each other in a room.

Susan, aged 49, had a broken nose and liver disease but pathologists were unable to give a cause of death.

Patricia, 71, had three fractured ribs, internal bleeding of the abdomen and signs of heart disease.

Holiday

Police believe Susan died first. It is not known how either suffered their injuries.

Officers first called at the home on April 7. It was thought they may have been on holiday.

Following further family concerns, they returned to the address and made the discovery on April 19.

Carbon monoxide poisoning, and any third party involvement, was ruled out.

The inquest was told they were both heavy drinkers

By Craig Hughes

but instead of going out they had started to get alcohol taken to them at home.

The last call made from Susan's phone was on March 18. The inquest heard Patricia had been seen acting strangely before her death.

South Staffordshire coroner Andrew Haigh recorded open verdicts on both women.

DS Kiley Round, from Staffordshire Police, said: "It is a very unusual set of circumstances."

He said it could not be ruled out they had assaulted each other or that their injuries had been from falls.

"When found it was apparent they had been dead for some time," he said.

"The sequence is very difficult to determine.

"Overall, it is very difficult to reach conclusions about these deaths, despite investigations that have taken place."

Artwork in frame at annual exhibition

Great Wyrley Art Club prepares for its annual art show. Pictured filling the frame is chairman Glynis Haimes

AN art club holds its annual exhibition this weekend.

Members of Great Wyrley Art Club will be displaying their work at the village community centre, on Landywood Lane, from 10am to 4pm on Saturday (October 25).

The creations of more than 15 artists will be showcased.

It is free to attend, refreshments will be available and art equipment, books and DVDs will be on sale.

Club chairman Glynis Haimes has organised this year's display. She said: "Everyone is invited along. There will be some paintings for sale on the day, while others will simply be on display to admire."

"The exhibition will be made up of a wide range of art, with pictures made from all different styles."

"We are a club not a class so our members are free to paint whatever they like in any style they want to. Many members paint using water colours or oils and there will be landscape pictures, flowers and portraits on display."

Paintings will be on sale from £20.

There is a permanent display of artwork in the community hall where the group meet each Thursday.

The club is made up of 26 artists aged between 50 to over 90 and is so popular among local artists that there was a waiting list to join.

Mrs Haimes said: "The club is very popular it is just a pity we can't fit more people into our weekly classes but we often hold demonstrations and talks and non members are welcome to these."

THE BEST OF PETER RHODES

PROVING there is no subject too awful, too appalling or too globally life-threatening to laugh at, a reader says he was amused to read that air passengers tested for Ebola will "have their temperature taken at entry points." Let's see if we're still amused six months from now, eh?

MANY thanks to Daniela Liverani, 24, from Edinburgh who chose this week to volunteer the news that, having suffered from nosebleeds for some weeks, she finally discovered she had a three-inch leech living in one nostril. I think most of us would have kept that to ourselves.

MICHAEL McIntyre stormed off the stage when a woman persistently used her mobile phone. I sympathise, coming fresh from a birthday party where a hugely-talented couple performed a selection of blues and soul standards. They were excellent but 90 per cent of the guests simply ignored them, talking over the music and not even applauding at the end. The simple courtesies, such as the ability to shut our traps and listen, are fading fast.

SO what do drivers really make of "driver awareness" courses, offered as an alternative to penalty points on your licence? You can find plenty of drivers who sing their praises, but then their view may be tempered by thankfulness at keeping a clean licence. A dissident breaks ranks to tell me: "I attended one of these courses and all I got from it was pins and needles in my bum. It was a complete waste of time." He calculated that the fees paid by drivers at his session amounted to £2,000 per half day. The two men running the course insisted there was no profit, but he was not convinced.

I NOTE that during the Most Secret Trial in History (the one about an alleged plot against Tony and Cherie Blair, and I may already have said too much), it emerges that selected journalists will be allowed to attend the court hearings and take notes, but not report anything, at least not for the time being.

Their notebooks are solemnly locked away at the end of each day. As any hack can tell you, there is a grave danger in this, namely the very brief shelf-life of shorthand. Like so many fine products, shorthand goes off. An hour or so after you've scribbled it feverishly into your notebook at 120 words per minute, it makes perfect sense. Leave it for six months, however, and it mysteriously decays and turns into mere squiggles. The Most Secret Trial in History may end up being even more secret than anyone intended.

JAMES Lusted was born with dwarfism and stands just 3ft 7ins, two feet shorter than his fiancée Chloe Roberts. They are a familiar site in their home city of Cardiff but the waitress in the local Harvester restaurant had never seen them before. So, in the best Harvester tradition, she seated the couple, gave Chloe a menu and picked up a kids' colouring book for the little chap. It was only when James spoke in his deep voice that she realised her mistake. She was embarrassed and Harvester are mortified. And the couple? Chloe and James think the whole incident was hilarious. It would have been so easy for them to be outraged and to demand payment for hurt, distress, loss of earnings, mood swings and the other usual pseudo-symptoms trotted out by compensation lawyers. Instead, they laugh it off. James, a motivational speaker and badminton star, says: "I am man enough to see the funny side. I would never take offence." Pity there are not more blokes like him. Little guy, big man.

Drunken stranger in sex attack

A DRUNKEN intruder who got in to bed with two sleeping women and sexually assaulted one of them has been locked up for 28 months.

The 23-year-old victim and her partner woke up in the middle of the night to find stranger Robert Deakin lying on their bed. He told the terrified women he had come to collect £20 owed to someone.

When they shouted to him to get out, he did – leaving behind some clothes and a pair of trainers. The women rang the police and after a search of the area, Deakin, 20, of Hornbeam Crescent, Hazel Slade, was arrested.

At Stafford Crown Court, he admitted an offence of sexual assault and was sent to a Young Offenders Institute for 28 months.

Recorder Mr Mark Wall QC told him: "Imagine if someone had done to your mother or sister what you did that night and you'll understand why this is such a serious offence.

"The women whose sleep you disturbed have been significantly traumatised."

Mr Robert Price, prosecuting, said Deakin got into the house during the night of March 15 via an unlocked back door. In an impact statement, the victim said: "Just the thought of him being in our bed makes my skin crawl, let alone what he did to me." In his police interview, Deakin said it was a combination of vodka and cannabis which led up to the offence.

He said he couldn't recall going in to the house and he did not know either of the women.

Mr Harpreet Sandhu, defending, said: "He has been so shocked by his actions he hasn't, since the commission of this offence, stepped outside his door."

Angler jailed after laser shone at plane

AN angler who deliberately shone a laser at the cockpit of a Ryanair flight with 155 passengers on board has been jailed for a year.

The first officer, piloting the flight from Dublin, was dazzled and the captain distracted during the most critical part of the approach to Birmingham Airport, Stafford Crown Court heard.

By Adam Burling

Captain Fabian Renzow described seeing the intense green beam seeking out his aircraft and 'hunting us down'.

A police helicopter on patrol was diverted to find the source of the laser and its pilot had to change course to avoid it.

But the pilot did spot the source of the laser, a pool in Washbrook Lane, Norton Canes. Officers went to the pool and found four men, who all initially denied being involved.

Tragic

One of them, Steve Johnson, aged 34, eventually went to his car and handed over a laser pen. He said he had been using it to scare birds away from his bait.

Recorder Mr Mark Wall QC told him: "You deliberately shone a laser light in to the sky and into that cockpit. It doesn't take any imagination to realise what tragic events could have been caused."

Mr Robert Price, prosecuting, said the Ryanair Boeing 737 flight FR668 was approaching Birmingham Airport at just 6,000ft on April 26 when the crew became aware of a green light about three miles ahead. They were just 16 miles from the landing strip and they radioed for police help.

The plane was kept on autopilot while the light was monitored. At one point the beam entered the cockpit, dazzling First Officer James Pyle.

"This was at the most critical point as they were approaching to land," said Mr Price.

Father-of-two Johnson, of Norman Road, Smethwick, admitted two charges of doing an act likely to endanger an aircraft.

After his arrest he said he didn't realise the gravity of what he was doing. The laser pens could be bought off ebay, seven for £6.

Mr Harpreet Sandhu, defending, said: "The laser pen was in his possession to use in a legitimate way. It is an act of gross stupidity which brings him before the court."

Dinner aids servicemen

A CHARITY dinner hosted and sponsored by Cannock-based fork-lift truck firm Briggs Equipment has raised £42,000 in aid of the Royal Logistic Corps' football development programme and Help for Heroes.

More than 160 people attended the event at the Headquarters Officers' Mess of the Royal Logistic Corps at Deepcut Barracks in Camberley.

Alex Russett, commercial manager, Briggs Equipment DLS, said: "This year's charity dinner has enabled us to reinforce our support for the UK's service personnel in two very different, but equally important, ways."

Barn owl numbers on the up in county

THE number of barn owls in Staffordshire is on the up, according to wildlife experts.

Staffordshire Barn Owl Action Group (BOAG), based at the wildlife trust HQ at Wolseley Bridge, monitored 263 nest boxes across the county this year, recording 27 pairs of barn owls using the boxes, as well as observing more than 90 chicks successfully fledging.

The group reported just 15 pairs using their nest boxes in 2013, down from 54 pairs the previous year.

Helen Cottam, from BOAG, said: "This is fantastic news for our barn owl population which suffered such worrying declines over recent years.

"But the fine weather we've had so far this year has provided barn owls with a plentiful supply of food. Brood sizes have also been bigger than usual, with one pair successfully rearing seven chicks, and a further three pairs rearing six chicks each."

A public sightings appeal launched earlier this year has also provided 51 new records, as well as a further four possible breeding pairs using natural nest sites.

The group reached a milestone earlier this year, installing its 400th nest box in the county. For details of sending in sightings visit www.staffs-wildlife.org.uk

November fair

PARISHIONERS can bag a bargain at a November fair in Rugeley. There will be Christmas gifts, books, bric-a-brac and white elephant stalls at St Paul's Methodist/United Reformed Church, Lichfield Street, from 10am to noon on Saturday, November 15.

Youngsters graduate as Junior Cadets

The pupils at their graduation ceremony

CHILDREN in Rugeley have graduated as Junior Police Cadets.

The graduation ceremony took place for youngsters at Western Springs Primary.

The original Cadet scheme, for 14-to-17-year-olds, was initiated in 2013 by Police & Crime Commissioner Matthew Ellis to strengthen links between police and young people and promote good citizenship.

Successful units are already up and running in Cannock, Stafford and Stoke-on-Trent with more soon to follow.

The programme has now expanded with Junior Cadet schemes being launched in primary schools for eight-to-10-year-olds. A specially-selected group of 10 children have taken part in six one-hour sessions, led by local Police Community Support Officer Debbie Gardner during school time, covering areas including road safety, police investigations and anti-social behaviour. The sessions culminated in a school assembly about anti-social behaviour and the negative effects it can have.

The Junior Cadets were presented with certificates for completing the sessions by Cannock Chase's Local Policing Team Commander Chief Inspector Stephen Morrey and Pc Liz Bradbury. They also received their own pocket books to fill in during sessions along with a Junior Police Cadet baseball cap and T-shirt for completing the course.

Mr Ellis said: "It's fantastic that primary school children are now becoming Junior Cadets and taking part in a fun-packed programme which teaches them how to become responsible citizens."

PCSO Gardner said: "I have enjoyed working with Western Springs Primary School to deliver the Cadets scheme. The confidence of these young people has grown each week and I feel that the scheme has had a positive impact on them."

Hoard brought to life in new interactive display

By Andrew Turton

SOME of the world famous items from the Staffordshire Hoard are being brought to life like never before in a new interactive exhibition.

Around 1.5 million people have been to see the hoard on display since it was discovered in a farmer's field in Hammerwich five years ago.

Now they can get a new perspective on this fascinating find as more than 300 ornate pieces go on display at Birmingham Museum and Art Gallery.

The display will shine a light on conservation work to protect the Hoard.

The gold and silver items will be brought into focus using microscopes giving visitors an even clearer view of some of the Anglo Saxon treasure.

Touch screens and videos will allow people an even greater insight.

Younger visitors can get to grips with some of the unusual tools that conservation staff have used while working with the 1,400-year-old objects.

Exquisite

Visitors can find out about the exquisite craftsmanship used to create the items and learn how the designs of the objects can be linked to many regions across Europe.

Many of the well known pieces feature including the folded cross, the Millefiori stud and sword pommels.

The display will become a permanent gallery home to many pieces of the Hoard which has been on tour across the country. The exhibition was developed with a £700,000 Heritage Lottery Fund grant to help display the find.

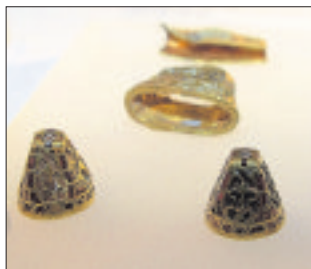

Birmingham Museum's director, Ellen McAdam, said staff were excited to have the new exhibition open to the public.

"The Staffordshire Hoard is one of Birmingham's most popular collections, and this new gallery will give visitors an even greater access to this unique find," she said.

"Last year alone, over 100,000 people from across the world came to see the Hoard at the museum, and we look forward to welcoming many more visitors in years to come."

IN MY VIEW

with Mark Andrews

SOMETIMES you wonder whether the top brass of public sector organisations such as the BBC have been infiltrated by some cutting-edge comedy act, whose role is to provide endless satirical material to make life as easy as possible for us columnists.

For example, how else could one explain the recent report that old Auntie Beeb has blown £200,000 of licence-payers' money teaching its staff how to use iPhones?

Straight away, MP Philip Davies, who has turned BBC-bashing into something of an art form, was presented with an open goal. Predictably, he was quick to remark that if BBC staff were so stupid that they couldn't use an iPhone, then the corporation should probably change its recruitment process. And who could argue with that?

Except that I wouldn't know how to operate an iPhone either. And not because I am stupid – although, many will argue that may well be the case – but simply because I have never had cause to use one of the devices, and nobody has ever shown me.

However, I would hazard a guess that they usually come with some form of instruction booklet, so you would not think it beyond the wit of most BBC professionals to be able to read those before embarking on a £200,000 training programme.

And when I needed to use an iPad for the first time, I devised a particularly cost-efficient training programme which I think the BBC could learn from. I asked a technically savvy colleague to show me what to do, simples.

OF all the nations you might expect to come up with a solution to end all wars and bring everlasting world peace, I must concede that I never thought that the Russians and the Australians would figure highly.

But it looks like a spat between Australian premier Tony Abbott and Russia's Vladimir Putin has unwittingly come up with a way to resolve all future conflicts without armies ever having to take up arms against one another again.

London-born Abbott fired the opening salvo, saying he was going to 'shirt front' Putin over the shooting down of the M17 airliner, which claimed 38 Australian lives. Apparently, 'shirt-front' is Antipodean slang for charging a player in the chest in Aussie-ruled football, and is not considered sportsmanlike behaviour.

Anyway, not to be outdone, Putin has now reminded Abbott that while he might be good at cycling, it is the Russian leader who is the judo champion. Fight!

Wouldn't it be refreshing if, instead of sending thousands of young men to their deaths every time they had a disagreement, world leaders just settled their differences with a good old-fashioned fist fight, no innocent parties involved?

Flight Lieutenant Trevor Edwards

Unsung pilots who rose to challenge

October is Black History Month and KIMBERLEY CRAYTON-BROWN tells of the volunteers of war

THEY are the little-known volunteers of war.

Thousands of black men and women from Africa, the Caribbean and Britain stepping forward to defend Britain, her Empire, and the Commonwealth in two world wars.

Unable to enlist because of a colour bar, relaxed before the Great War but quietly reimposed when the war ended, their help was again called on in 1939.

And now, coinciding with Black History Month, an exhibition highlighting their vital war efforts is on display at the Royal Air Force Museum at Cosford, telling the stories of the Pilots of the Caribbean - Volunteers of African Heritage in the RAF.

Diversity

Inspired by a photograph of two pilots posing with a Spitfire - one from Barbados, one from Trinidad - the exhibition highlights the air force's success in embracing diversity and 'demonstrates how the rich, cosmopolitan nature of modern Britain owes much to the black men and women who wore air force blue'.

Peter Devitt, assistant curator at the RAF Museum in London, said it all began in 2011 when they were asked to talk to a group of disadvantaged, black youngsters.

"It went very well until I showed them a picture of two black Spitfire pilots. It went dead quiet - and then the atmosphere became totally electric. They were bombarded with questions. They wanted to know everything about these men. One young man looked me straight in the eye and said: 'Why haven't we heard this before?'"

Museum trustee Brendan Connor also

Flying Officer Arthur Weekes and Flight Sergeant Collins Joseph recalled the reaction to the black Battle of Britain pilots: "They were completely bowled over, they had never seen it before."

"It was not part of their history and we suddenly realised that we hadn't told a story which needs to be told."

The photograph is the centrepiece of the exhibition, telling a story that started 100 years ago with display boards, photographs, video and memorabilia, and has been put together in partnership with the Black Cultural Archives.

Eve, 1944. Trained at Piarco, and a volunteer from Trinidad ETS, his Spitfire went missing at 1530 hours on December 31 during an air operation between Liege and Aachen.

The pair were two of many role models who played an integral part in the development of the air force, Peter Dye, director general of the Royal Air Force Museum, said: "From First World War pilot William Robinson Clarke, to the young volunteers of today, Afro-Caribbean men and women have played an integral part in the development of the Royal Air Force and the defence of our freedoms and liberties."

"In this exhibition, the Royal Air Force Museum aims to celebrate their contribution to the development of modern Britain, while providing all young people with a series of role models to inspire and guide them in realising their own ambitions and dreams."

Numbers

As the volunteers were fully integrated into the service and their ethnic origin not entered on their personnel records, the exact number of black volunteers who have served in the RAF is unavailable.

It is estimated 6,000 volunteers from West Indies communities, such as Barbados and Jamaica, served in the RAF during the Second World War. Of those, about 400 were air crew, either in Bomber Command, Coastal Command, or Fighter Command - which saw the first black volunteers selected to train as fighter pilots in 1941. Bomber Command had four-fifths of African-Caribbean aircrew in active service.

Volunteers served with all UK-based RAF commands, with the exception of Transport Command, which visited countries intolerant of integrated crews.

Of the thousands of volunteers, about 150 were killed in training or combat operations. Over 100 were awarded gallantry medals.

WEEK IN POLITICS

with Daniel Wainwright

IT is absolutely right that UKIP's Nigel Farage should be included in an ITV debate between party leaders in the run up to the General Election.

But so, too, it is correct for there to be a head to head on Sky and Channel 4 between David Cameron and Ed Miliband without Mr Farage or Liberal Democrat Nick Clegg present. The Tory and Labour leaders are the only ones who stand a chance of being Prime Minister next year.

The viewing public need be reminded of the real heads or tails choice they face in at least one of those debates.

What is particularly galling for some politicians is the plan of the BBC to hold a debate including Mr Clegg but excluding Mr Farage as well as the leaders of other parties, such as the Greens and Respect, all of whom like UKIP currently have at least one MP.

The Liberal Democrats are a busted flush, according to UKIP MEP Bill Etheridge. He said: "If anything, it should be the Lib Dems arguing to keep their place in the debates, not UKIP arguing to be given one."

He has a point. The Lib Dems lost their deposit in no fewer than seven by-elections since 2010. There are parts of the West Midlands where they did not even bother standing in council elections.

They might well be a party of government, but they have no more chance of winning a majority than any of the minor parties. As such, Nick Clegg deserves to be relegated to a debate with the minor parties.

Better still, he and Mr Farage should go head to head as the ones whose parties the opinion polls indicate are currently vying for third place.

There is every chance Nigel Farage could be as much of a kingmaker next year as Nick Clegg was in 2010.

What their parties demand in exchange for their support in the event of a hung Parliament could change the future of Britain.

IN Westminster, the Tories love to claim all the credit for the recent good news on unemployment. Yet their opposition leader on Wolverhampton City Council suggests there are not quite the reasons to be cheerful there should be.

Wendy Thompson is unhappy the city has the highest percentage of people claiming Jobseekers' Allowance and calls on the Labour council to do more, saying she does not want its recent business week to be dismissed as 'hot air'.

Councillor Thompson is to be congratulated for her willingness to speak truth to power, even if she ends up on the wrong side of her own party line. But if things do get better, something tells me David Cameron and George Osborne won't share credit with Labour-run Wolverhampton City Council.

Campaigners' hope for Pied Piper future

Campaigner Phil Dempster celebrates with fellow pub-goers at the Pied Piper, Pye Green Road, Cannock

CAMPAIGNERS who saved the Pied Piper from the bulldozers hope Marston's brewery will now take it off the market. Punters have been celebrating their victory against HB Village Developments.

They now hope the rejection of the planning application will draw a line under any future attempts to sell the pub or develop the land, but are not taking anything for granted.

Campaigner Phil Dempster said: "I don't think for one minute that HB will put in an appeal."

"It has already cost them to get this far. The company would be spending more money than is sensible."

Value

"At the end of the day, this will be going back to Marston's. Things have gone our way with the council but that can change."

"For the foreseeable future, Marstons are not really going to sell the land as a development, so the site just has its pub value."

"The sensible thing to do would be for Marston's to treat the Pied Piper as part of its core stock and work with the pub to make it a valuable asset for them."

The brewery, which was not represented at the meeting, said it would wait until after it had received official confirmation of the council's decision before commenting.

The pub has been placed on the authority's asset register until August 2019 after which a fresh application by the campaigners will be needed.

Popular pub saved after flats bid refused

A POPULAR Cannock pub has been saved from the bulldozers after council bosses rejected plans to replace it with flats.

Committee members went against planning officers' recommendations to approve the development at the Pied Piper in Pye Green Road. Instead they backed campaigners who have fought to save it.

Wolverhampton brewery Marston's put the pub up for sale after saying it was no longer commercially viable and plans were lodged by HB Village Developments to build 16 flats and two bungalows for assisted living.

The plans were refused by Cannock Chase Council's planning committee on the grounds of over-development.

Loved

Residents have successfully registered the pub as a community asset and have made a request to buy it.

Campaigner Phil Dempster said: "This is a facility that is greatly needed and greatly loved."

Councillor Frank Allen added: "I am not going to put my name to any application that will see the closure of a community asset."

By Katy-Rose Meaney

Councillor George Alcott said: "No one on this committee is against this type of facility in the area but this is not the right place."

Campaigners have six months to raise the cash to buy the pub. However the brewery is not obliged to sell it to the group and others are open to bid for it.

Alastair Sheehan, Development Director for HB Villages said the company would look to appeal. He said: "We are still the only organisation to take an interest in this site and Marston's want to dispose of it."

8 Traders hit as festival closes road

The Chronicle Thursday, October 23, 2014

I WRITE with reference to the letter by Janos Toth (October 9), about Chads-moor Food Festival.

I am annoyed that the or-ganisers didn't consider the shops and businesses when closing the main road at 3.30pm, killing trade com-pletely. We were told of the event and that it wouldn't affect business as it was outside our normal trading hours - which was not cor-rect - but also 80 per cent of the businesses in Chads-moor were not even aware of the event.

Only food outlets, which all primarily open at night, were asked to be involved.

Chadsmoor Community Trust should have given shopkeepers a chance to ap-prove or object or even given them the option to take their traders would like to know who Chadsmoor Com-munity Trust, how they are funded, and what they actu-ally do.

Defectors to 'people's army' welcomed

WITH reference to the letter in The Chronicle on October 9 'Political op-portunism' from Labour Councillor Gordon Ball.

Cannock Chase district council has a total of six Ukip councillors from the previous May elections, two of these were Conservative councillors, myself and my wife Ann who moved across in July 2013 and helped to start up a new Ukip branch for the Cannock Chase district and which now after a year has more than 120 members.

The remaining four had not been district councillors before and were chosen by the membership to stand along with the other nine who did not get in but came second or third in the elections.

I must say that nationally, in other local councils, we have had not only Conservatives, Lib Dems but Labour as well coming across to Ukip for what we stand for.

They have lost faith with the policies that the three main parties have put together and feel the time for change is now.

We will welcome councillors from these parties who want to defect and go forward with our policies and join our people's army with Nigel Farage to cause the biggest political earthquake seen this century.

When you vote for Ukip you will get Ukip.

Chance to clear up eyesores

A RECENT article reported that Cannock District Council planners had recommended acceptance of proposals to demolish the Pied Piper pub and replace it with sheltered living accommodation.

This begs the question why, when there are equally/more suitable sites around the district?

One wonders to what extent planners will have advised the applicants about alternatives? This has to be an opportunity to clear eyesores where Blackfords WMC and the Golden Age pub have long since been demolished, and The Globe in East Cannock Road remains boarded up. Both Blackfords and the Golden Age sites are close to local shops, recreation and to Cannock/Chadsmoor/Hednesford.

Destroying a community facility that continues to operate and leaves long-standing blights in the district to fester doesn't appear to make a lot of sense.

L COOPER, Cannock

Advertising problems of life not a good idea

A DESIGNER village is proposed to open outside Cannock town centre in 2017 and town traders are eager to see how footfall can be increased from the influx of tourists.

Labour councillors suggest that an alcohol and drugs rehabilitation unit in the main shopping centre is a good idea and won't make a difference as there is already one in Park Road.

They may care to consider whether advertising the problem areas of life is a good way of revitalising the town.

Our council loudly proclaims it is 'Caring for the Community', this must include caring for those that actually produce the wealth as well as those that consume it.

Country put at risk regarding borders

SO the government have started screening for the Ebola virus at our airports.

What about the 12 African immigrants found inside a truck on the M6 near Cannock? Have they been screened? And the ones who have come into this country on the back of a lorry who have not been caught?

I think our borders are a joke and anyone can get into this country via the back of a truck. This is all down to saving money by the government and putting our country at risk regarding our borders.

Romance captured at beauty spot

The photograph of couple in the romantic setting at Chasewater taken by Stuart Mayo from Willenhall

THIS spectacular image could capture the end of summer of any tropical location in the world. It was in fact taken at Chasewater Country Park.

The photograph with the romantic image of a couple enjoying the picturesque scene was taken by great-grandfather Stuart Mayo of Willenhall.

With the permission of the couple, Mr Mayo took the photograph around the time of the end of August, early September at around 9.30pm.

The 51-year-old, of Lichfield Road New Invention, is a regular visitor to the country park and is a member of the Focal point Photography group.

"It has all the colours and with the couple it adds to the overall feeling, it was quite a romantic setting," he said.

Big names at retail park

TK Maxx, Burger King and a drive-thru Costa Coffee will open next summer on a new retail park creating 120 jobs.

Sofaworks has also confirmed it will join Cannock Gateway Retail Park based at the Churchbridge interchange.

Work has started in clearing the site ready for the multi-million pound development, close to the A460, A5 and junction 7 of the M6 Toll.

The development is expected to create 120 full and part time jobs when it opens in June 2015. Richard Norgrove, property director for the site developers, Hortons' Estate Developments Ltd said groundworks on the 5.8 acre site had begun and residents would see building developments before Christmas.

Recruiting

The new Burger King will include a drive-thru and will be the first in the Cannock area. Costa Coffee already has a coffee shop in the town centre.

Sofaworks say their store will create 20 jobs and the brand will begin recruiting in the new year. Councillor Maureen Freeman said the joint venture by Trebor Developments LLP and Hortons' Estate Limited was 'excellent news'. She said: "It is another great opportunity for the area and to provide further employment."

Concerns were raised, however, about the impact retail parks will have on the town centre. Councillor Paul Witton said: "I don't have a direct objection to this but feel that something needs to be done in Cannock town centre, it is becoming a ghost town."

Cloudy2Clear Windows - Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes - not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director Brian Stanley feels that it's all about service. "Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 5 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done.

We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole."

Cloudy2Clear service Wolverhampton and the surrounding area and Brian is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success. "The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people

I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated."

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Brian a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

CCBC star is pantomime beauty

Sleeping Beauty cast members including Shorelle Hepkin and Keith D'Winter as the dame

CCBC star Shorelle Hepkin is the star of Cannock's Prince of Wales Centre pantomime this year.

The Wolfblood actress takes the lead role in the PMA production of Sleeping Beauty, which runs from December 21 to 30. Keith D'Winter will return by popular demand as the panto dame, while Darren John Langford, of Hollyoaks, will also reappear following his performance in Aladdin last year. Rugeley's Studio 5 dancers will have their regular guest spot.

For full details of showtimes and ticket prices, call the Church Street theatre's box office on 01543 578762 or visit boxoffice.wlct.org

Free parking to boost town

FREE parking is being introduced in Rugeley in a bid to boost trade after businesses were hit by months of roadworks.

Traders saw their profits plummet as the works in Horse Fair were delayed by five months.

The 20 new spaces have been created along that same stretch and the free parking will be available for one hour between 8am and 6pm along the central reservation.

Traders say they hope it will attract shoppers to the town after the roadworks left some businesses struggling to survive.

Dave Hancock, who runs the Three Wishes card shop in Upper Brook Street, said: "As far as we are concerned this will be a good thing. It will mean people will pop into town for a bit, and then we hope they will come back again in the future. Parking is a real issue in Rugeley and if this brings people in to the town then it can only be a good thing."

Staffordshire County Council economy leader Mark Winnington said: "Regenerating our town centres is a vital part of our continued economic growth and the Horse Fair improvements will help to make Rugeley a more attractive place to shop, visit and invest in."

Rock band adds new faces for reunion gig

THEY were household names in the 70s, winning ITV's New Faces and twice appearing in the grand final.

A legendary Cannock rock band are now re-uniting for a special gig 30 years on following a series of tragic circumstances.

When Penny Farthing, alias vocalist Chris Anslow, guitarist Terry Heath, bassist Terry Corns, and drummer Barry Reed won the popular TV talent show in 1977, it propelled them into the world of showbiz.

They supported acts such as Bob Monkhouse and Tommy Cooper across the country on the cabaret circuit.

Sadly, Terry Heath passed away around Christmas last year, shortly followed by the band's ex-manager John Parker in January, prompting the musicians to re-unite.

To raise money for Cannock Chase Hospital, Mr Anslow is joining forces with Mr Corns for the first time in decades to once again take to the stage.

Drummer

The Reunion of Penny Farthing takes place from 7.30pm at the Burns Street Club in Chads Moor on November 29 with a string of other bands. Tickets cost £5.

Mr Reed is unable to perform for health reasons, so the band have enlisted the help of former Whitesnake keyboardist Richard Bailey, guitarist Phil Griffin, drummer Graham Lightfoot, and Chris's daughter Lucy Anslow on vocals.

"With everything that is going on with New Cross taking over Cannock Hospital we thought it was fitting to support our local hospital as all the original band were Cannock lads," said Chris.

"I have treatment for prostate and bone cancer at the moment and use the hospital a lot. Terry was in there

The current line-up which will perform for the reunion gig in Cannock

The original line-up of Barry Reid, Terry Corns, Terry Heath, Chris Anslow with kidney failure, and John used it for heart problems.

Mr Anslow left the band in the early 80s to take up a job as a sales director for a global firm. The other members carried on playing gigs until only recently. "It will be a terrific night of entertainment," said Chris.

"We have got some great bands lined up and it would be really nice to be able to make a nice donation to Cannock Hospital."

New Faces helped to launch the careers of Jim Davidson, Michael Barrymore and Joe Pasquale among others.

Its panel of judges which over the years included Mickie Most, Clive James, Ted Ray, Ed Stewart, Jack Parnell, Arthur Askey, Noel Edmonds and Tony Hatch.

New arrivals steaming in at heritage railway

TWO new arrivals have been drawing in visitors at a heritage railway.

A Darfield Number 1 locomotive dating back to 1953 is now at Chasewater Railway near Burntwood.

A horse drawn carriage from 1881 is also now an added attraction at the railway.

Financial administrator Dan Weekes said both had arrived just in time for one of the site's busiest times of the year, Halloween and Christmas.

He said: "It's great that we've got the locomotive and the horse drawn carriage."

"We've got Halloween tours and Santa tours coming up."

The Darfield 1 was purchased using a legacy left to the railway. Renamed Hollybank, it was built by Leeds based Hunslet Engine Company in 1953 and weighs 38 tons.

Check

It was built for the North Eastern Division of the National Coal Board and it was used at Darfield Main Colliery near Barnsley.

Mr Weekes added: "There were a couple of issues with the boiler which we need to check on but we're hoping it will be ready in time for the Santa tours."

"It will be able to pull three coaches which can fit around 150 people on."

"It used to pull 100 coal trucks so it's a beast."

The Midland Horse Drawn Midland Railway Carriage was donated to Chasewater in the 1960s.

For years it was loaned to the Shugborough Estate. It is now on display at Chasewater in the heritage centre.

Mr Weekes added: "It's in very good

Volunteer Bob Duffill with the dray

A Hunslet from 1953 at the railway

Chasewater Railway volunteer Bob Duffill works on the 1953 Hunslet condition for its age. It was with us when we were based in Hednesford and when we moved to Chasewater we loaned it to Shugborough.

"Now we've got it back again. It is now on display to the public."

A Halloween Special event is taking place on October 31.

Trains will be running down the old colliery line and volunteers will be dressed up in scary costumes.

Then the Santa Special tours run through December from December 2.

The railway, which features a four mile track, is run by a team of around 40 volunteers.

Powers to tackle nuisance backed

NEW powers to tackle anti-social behaviour have been welcomed by Staffordshire police. The new act gives stronger dispersal powers and the opportunity to review how cases have been handled.

It gives more powers to police, councils, the NHS and social landlords and means any member of the public can activate a review into instances that have been reported at least three times within a six-month period.

Assistant chief constable Jon Drake said: "We are pleased to have this new legislation."

Network launched against hate crime

A NEW network of specialists offering support to victims of hate crime has been launched in Staffordshire.

It is part of the Police & Crime Commissioner's re-think of victims' services.

Specialists will work alongside 12 organisations with expertise in supporting vulnerable people.

Hero soldier is honoured for his fan-tastic efforts

A HERO former soldier has been rewarded for his support for his beloved Wolves.

Clive Smith, of Hednesford, was named the Championship fan of the month for September.

The 29-year-old competed in the Invictus Games at the Olympic Park in London last month. He has recently been discharged from the Army after a lengthy rehabilitation process following the loss of both legs while serving in Afghanistan in 2010 as a sapper in the 33 Engineer Regiment.

"It was absolutely brilliant to compete in the Games," said Smith.

Brilliant

"The experience of being there and competing was unbelievable.

"It's an honour to win fan of the month - thousands of supporters travel up and down the country, week-in week-out, so to win it is brilliant."

Smith was last year's face of the Royal British Legion's Poppy Appeal, and delivered the matchball for the Wolves v Stevenage game last season and the Brighton home game the year before.

Midfielder Tommy Rowe said: "It was great to meet Clive and congratulate him on being fan of the month."

"It is difficult to imagine there will be a more deserving winner of the award throughout the season."

Lindisfarne members tell of band's success

TWO members of the legendary group Lindisfarne stop off in Cannock during their 48-date UK tour.

Billy Mitchell and Ray Laidlaw will illustrate their show, The Lindisfarne Story, with archive footage, describing their worldwide tours, festival successes and TV appearances. They will also tell of their unique relationship with Newcastle Town Hall, venue for more than 140 of the band's concerts.

The show reaches the Prince of Wales Centre, Church Street, on Wednesday, October 29 at 7.30pm.

Laidlaw was a founder member of the group and spent 33 years as drummer, while Mitchell enjoyed an eight-year stint as frontman.

The duo will perform acoustic versions of some of their biggest hits, such as Meet Me On The Corner, Fog On The Tyne, Lady Eleanor and Run For Home, all of which have a story behind them.

Tickets are £18.50 and are available on 01543 578762.

Jobs boost as Newlife to open its latest store

Newlife MD Colin Brown as Newlife Market Place takes shape in the former Jack Livesey showroom

A CHARITY will create 20 jobs when it opens its latest new store in a huge warehouse in Cannock.

Newlife Market Place will open in Hemlock Way, Hawks Green, in early November and be the trading company's clearance store.

It will be opened on the site of the former Jack Livesey Tiles outlet, two doors from the popular Newlife at Home store and across the road from the Newlife Superstore.

By Adam Burling

It will stock discounted furniture and other bulky goods.

All profits from the group of Newlife stores – this latest opening will bring the number to five – go to Newlife Foundation for Disabled Children, to help provide a range of practical support services for families in need.

Last year, profits from the group raised £3.3million to support hundreds of children across the UK.

Unwanted

Newlife Trading Ltd managing director Colin Brown said the organisation was working with more firms.

He said: "We are working with an ever-increasing number of high street retailers and manufacturers in the UK and Europe who donate their unwanted goods.

"As a result we are expanding both our recycling/warehouse operation and retail business – and this in turn means we will have up to 20 job vacancies for various posts, including sales staff." A dedicated preparation room will be included, to manage the charity's 'play therapy pod' service, which loans out 'pods' of sensory equipment for children with complex needs.

In addition, the space will assist the charity in growing its latest service – called Newlifeable – which rescues pre-owned paediatric and young adult disability equipment, such as wheelchairs and specialist seating, and makes them available at low cost or via a grant.

Mr Brown added: "We are already a major employer in the Cannock area and our hard-working and dedicated team of trading company and charity staff plays a vital role in really changing the lives of disabled children across the UK.

"We are an equal opportunities employer and welcome applications from anyone who wants to help make a difference."

The charity also has stores in Market Drayton and Uttoxeter.

Christmas cards sold in tribute to Stephen

FESTIVE cards featuring inspirational teenager Stephen Sutton are being sold at a Burntwood pub to raise funds for the charity he supported.

The former Chase Terrace Technology College student's courage in the face of cancer inspired the nation to raise almost £5million for the Teenage Cancer Trust.

Stephen died in May, aged 19 but a picture of him taken with Santa at the Drill Inn, Burntwood, last December, has now been used as a design for Christmas cards.

Some 2,000 have been printed by White Lodge Promotions in Lichfield and put on sale.

Landlord Tony Tully, who took the picture, is selling the Christmas cards in packs of five for £3 and the proceeds raised will go towards the trust.

Footsteps

There will also be a Santa's grotto at the Springlestyle Lane pub on December 6 and 7, with proceeds also going to the charity.

Mr Tully, aged 57, said: "The event will allow children to follow in Stephen's footsteps and come with their wish lists to sit on Santa's lap."

"We've done it for the last two years and it is usually very popular."

"We are hoping to get 100 to 200 people there over the two days, if not more."

"All profits will go to the Teenage Cancer Trust, as will the proceeds from selling the Christmas cards."

"We've had 2,000 cards made up into 400 packs."

"They've been on sale since the weekend and they are going quite

Tony Tully, landlord of the Drill Inn, Burntwood, with the Christmas cards that are being sold in memory of Stephen Sutton steadily. We've sold about 40 packs so far. I'm happy with how they've turned out.

"They honour his memory in a good way," Mr Tully added.

The Santa's grotto will be open from 4-6pm on both days with admission £2.

Honoured

Mr Tully and his wife Gill have already raised more than £6,000 for the appeal by holding a festival last summer and another recent live music event raised more than £2,000.

Mr Tully said they got to know Stephen well last year and wanted to keep his spirit alive.

The teenager was honoured with an MBE in this year's Queen's Birthday Honours, just weeks after losing his fight against cancer.

Stephen, who was diagnosed with bowel cancer at 15, became a household name during his fundraising drive for the fight against cancer, staying positive throughout his illness, always smiling and giving the 'thumbs up'.

Special award for police volunteer

Matthew Ellis with Deputy Chief Officer Graham Smout and Chief Constable Jane Sawyers

A SPECIAL constable who helped launch a police cadets scheme in Staffordshire has been named Volunteer of the Year.

Graham Smout received his award from Police & Crime Commissioner Matthew Ellis at the force's annual ceremony. The cadet scheme aims to strengthen links between the police and young people and promote good citizenship. Units have already been established in Stafford, Cannock and Stoke-on-Trent. Graham, deputy chief officer with the specials, volunteered to help with the introduction and running of the scheme in all three areas.

His efforts were rewarded with the PCC Award for Volunteer of the Year.

PCC Mr Ellis said of Graham: "He is an exceptional role model for the police cadets themselves, as well as the Special Constabulary."

New-look store to open

A BURNTWOOD store will reopen today (Thursday) following a £400,000 transformation.

Bosses say the refurbishment at the Co-Operative Food store in Swan Island will create an entirely new shopping experience for customers.

The store's new look will also turn it into a hub for the local community. The in-store bakery is being increased, and many ranges will be extended. Staff will receive additional training so they can provide expert advice to customers.

The Co-Operative has also launched its commitment to "Fair and Square Pricing", lowering prices on hundreds of everyday essentials.

Store manager Christine Steward said: "I'm excited about welcoming shoppers into the new store. The Co-Operative is a community retailer, and we are committed to playing an active role in local life, embracing the area's community spirit.

"The store will be a hub for the local community, and customers will be able to find out what is going on locally, and learn about how the Co-Operative can benefit local groups."

As part of its commitment to foster strong local relationships, Wayne Ashfield has been appointed as community pioneer.

Funds help create school library on barge

A RUGELEY primary school has been awarded £1,102 from the People Power Fund created by Staffordshire Police & Crime Commissioner Matthew Ellis.

Chancel Primary School's Parent, Teacher and Friends Association (PTFA) has put the funding, together with that from other sponsors, towards setting up a book café for pupils.

Mr Ellis attended its official opening last week, where pupils were joined by author Steve Smallman, storyteller Cindy Faulkner and parents.

The book café is located on a barge in the school grounds and benefits some 208 children, aged five-to-11. It aims to create a place for children to socialise in a safe environment while developing their reading and communication skills.

Mr Ellis said: "I am thrilled to have been at the opening of the book café to see all of the hard work that has gone into making it a success."

PTFA chairman Sarah Mollitt said: "The funds have enabled us to purchase a laptop and refreshments for the boat, as well as a number of magazine subscriptions and ultimately e-books to increase the variety of reading material available to our pupils."

HUNDREDS of pounds of tools have been donated by Amazon to a bike workshop that helps people get back into work.

Staff from the firm's huge base at the Towers Business Park in Wheelhouse Lane, Rugeley have made a donation to local charity Back 2 Bikes.

The project centres around a training workshop where volunteers of all abilities gain skills and experience which are used by some to help them back into paid employment.

At the project, donated bicycles are fully refurbished and safety-checked, before being offered for sale at affordable prices.

Essential

Amazon donated £500 worth of tools which will be used by Back 2 Bikes at the Greyfriars Business Park in Stafford.

Sara Elwell and Matthew Bainbridge from the Rugeley distribution centre visited the charity to see the work it does.

"Equipment like this is essential to enable us to keep the centre running and to expand the work we do to include young adults with learning difficulties," said

Daniel Connolly-Smith, of Back to Bikes, Matthew Bainbridge, of Amazon, Barry Stamp, Sara Elwell, of Amazon and Adil Javid, of Back to Bikes

Barry Stamp, chief officer at Back 2 Bikes.

"We are delighted to receive this donation from Amazon."

The money has been used to purchase new tools to be used in the centre's existing workshop and one next door which is currently under development.

The charity also repairs and services customers' own cycles using either new or pre-owned parts. To volunteer for the charity call 01785 257483 or email office@back2bikes.org.uk

Talk leads to deal of discussion

Si Cannock & District

CANNOCK Soroptimists learned about life in the 'Back-to-Back Houses' in Birmingham from their speaker Mac Joseph.

Mac was born and lived in one of the back-to-backs and he is now a guide with the National Trust properties in Birmingham.

The houses were built in the 1840s to provide homes for the many families who moved to Birmingham to work - Birmingham was a thriving work place and many skills and trades were needed. People were still living in these houses as late as the 1960s.

Conditions were terrible: the houses were damp and until 1908 there were no sewage pipes - Chamberlain came to power in Birmingham then, he did a tremendous amount to improve living conditions.

Each courtyard had a 'boss' - she would be either the oldest woman living there or the woman who had lived there the longest. It was her job to rota the wash days. In fact, nothing happened unless she said it could.

Mac told the club that he had very fond memories of a loving home in the back-to-backs when community spirit was so evident.

Shirley Brown thanked him for giving such an informative and interesting talk which had created a lot of discussion.

The next speaker meeting is on November 11 at 7pm at the Barns. Marian Canning will talk about her role as a toastmaster. Tickets are £13. Call 07971 494510.

Mac tells of life in the Back-to-Backs

THE October meeting is the one where the committee sits back to let the members' night committee do all the work.

The main business is dealt with first and this included celebrating Sheila Dix's 80th birthday with a glass of wine, and welcoming a new member Pauline Smith and a visitor from Thurlstone and West Buckland WI.

The Bat Walk in September was enjoyed by all who took part. Wendy Dunn thanked all who helped and supported the Macmillan Coffee Morning which raised approximately £970.

The club had two letters of thanks from Pat Green, Kath and Derrick Brew following their celebrations and thanks from Glenda Street following her recent operation - all of these received flowers.

Speaker for the evening was Mac Joseph who talked about life in the Back-to-

BURNTWOOD WI

Backs in Birmingham. Mac is a volunteer for the National Trust there.

He began his talk and film show by saying that he was brought up living in the houses and so has first-hand experience of what it was like.

The properties were built in 1840 and Mac explained how they were positioned and what they had, i.e. outside toilets a brew house which was shared, only two rooms up and down and a lot of them were built next to factories so there was always a lot of noise.

Families were large, sometimes having 10-12 children, so it was extremely hard, with many sleeping top-to-tail. The photos that Mac showed gave a real insight as to what it was like and it was very hard to imagine, although most of the children and adults did appear happy in them.

There was a lot of pride in the houses and a wonderful community spirit, Mac told many stories of the characters that lived by him and his experiences of growing up in the late 40s early 50s and these were shared by many members.

Supper

It was hard to imagine what it was like, but everyone is fortunate to be able to visit the few properties that are left in Birmingham.

Ann Wainwright gave the thanks and then everyone enjoyed a lovely plated supper provided by the members' night committee.

Gwyneth gave a big vote of thanks. Money raised will go towards subsidising the Christmas party.

The November meeting is a craft night when the ladies can all have a go at being creative.

WI choir is singing for joy

Hammerwich WI

HAMMERWICH Womens Institute had great cause to celebrate when its choir - The Hammerwich Ta Rowdles - travelled to Theatre Seven, in Shrewsbury, to take part in the regional heat for the NFWI Singing for Joy choir of the year competition.

Twelve choirs took part from across England, Wales and the Isle of Man, under the adjudication of Jonathan Willcocks.

Led by their amazing musical director, Elizabeth George, the ladies won first place and will now take part in the final in March, at Birmingham Town Hall.

The Hammerwich Ta Rowdles Choir

The winners from the Birmingham final will then sing in the Royal Albert Hall in London as part of the NFWI centenary celebrations.

A wonderful achievement for Hammerwich and for Staffordshire.

Brigadier General John Vaughan Campbell addressing troops from the Riqueval

Brigadier General John Vaughan Campbell led the victory

Troops making their way over the Riqueval Bridge during the battle

Lecturer tells how the war was won by Staffordshire Brigade

It was a key moment in the lead-up to victory in the First World War, according to the Allied Commander-in-Chief and 'the blow from which there could be no German recovery'.

And it was delivered by thousands of Staffordshire soldiers who had previously only been trusted with routine operations.

The 137 (Staffordshire) Brigade's heroics in breaking the Hindenburg Line at Bellenglise, France is often overlooked. Now a military expert is attempting to redress the balance to make sure the soldiers get the recognition they deserve.

Troops needed to get across the St Quentin Canal, which at some points was 6ft deep but also had thick mud in sections that had begun to dry out.

By capturing the bridge, they could push back the German line to the point where they had no room for manoeuvre. But they were hampered by dense fog and fierce enemy attacks. Last week, Dr John Bourne,

MEMORY LANE

By Adam Burling

from Burslem held a lecture entitled 'How Staffordshire Won the First World War' at the university campus in Stafford.

He is a vice-president of the Western Front Association, a member of the British Commission for Military History and a fellow of the Royal Historical Society and he ranks the achievements of the Brigade as among the greatest in modern military history.

In the years before the First World War Staffordshire showed staunch support for the recently-created Territorial Force.

The first TF division to deploy to France, 137 Brigade suffered cruelly in the attack on the Hohenzollern Redoubt on October 13, 1915, which was the worst day of the war for casualties in Staffordshire, and again at Gommecourt on July 1, 1916.

But on September 29 the Brigade broke the Hindenburg Line at Bellenglise, which was where the German army had retreated to. Dr Bourne says it was 'one of the most spectacular feats of arms on the Western Front'.

It was described by Marshal Foch, the Allied Commander-in-Chief, as the 'blow from which there could be no German recovery'.

The Brigade had 4,000 men at full strength but the influenza pandemic had hit numbers.

Dr Bourne said: "The Hindenburg Line was not really a line at all, it was a dense position full of barbed wire, machine gun nests, drop out points and bunkers, with masses of artillery."

"The division had to cross the Riqueval Bridge at St Quentin and they had a pretty bad time of it."

"They had very little powerful artillery and there was thick fog. The vast majority of the men could not swim so they got across the water by suspending a chain across and swinging from it. But the bridge was the best way to get across, though it was being strongly defended."

A key element was the capture of the Riqueval Bridge by a group led by Captain Humphrey Charlton, a Kings Bromley vicar's son. He had joined the Veterinary Corps, was called up to join the conflict in 1915 and led an inspiring against the odds victory.

The Brigade's most famous leader was Brigadier General John Vaughan Campbell, who was later awarded the Victoria Cross for his actions during the Battle of the Somme in 1916 when he rallied his men and led them against the enemy machine-guns, capturing the guns and killing the personnel.

Aged 40 at the time, an image of him addressing thousands of troops from the Riqueval Bridge shows the sheer scale of the operation.

The Brigade prevented the German troops blowing up the bridge by bringing down the rows of men showering them in a hail of machine gun fire. It meant they could cross the bridge and push the German army even further back.

Food bank donation

PUPILS at Abbots Bromley school have donated parcels of food as part of their harvest celebrations. Youngsters handed the food over to the Trussell Trust Food Bank, based at Rugeley Community Church in Frank Rogers Walk.

The food was dedicated at the school's harvest festival service in the school chapel conducted by the Rev Vivienne Flanagan.

Executive headteacher Victoria Musgrave said: "When it comes to helping our local community, the pupils and their parents are always incredibly generous."

Boss happy over ruling on use of Taser guns

POLICE officers in the West Midlands are firing Taser stun guns more than any other force in the county, latest figures show.

In six months, records show the guns were fired by regional officers on 120 occasions. Staffordshire Police, meanwhile, fired 27 times and officers from West Mercia shot them on 16 occasions.

Data revealing the amount of times Tasers were used or brandished, showed West Midlands was ranked the third highest force in the country. Between January and June this year, guns were used or brandished by the force on 452 occasions. Staffordshire was fourth highest with 199. London's Met Police came out on top, using Tasers 992 times and Greater Manchester was second on the list at 476. Tasers were used or brandished by West Mercia Police a total of 117 times.

Probe

Across the country, the stun guns were used 5,107 times - up from 1,267 compared to the same period in 2009 - and fired on 826 occasions.

A probe was launched into Staffordshire Police's use of Taser guns when previous figures came out in July. The data showed Tasers were brandished 619 times in nine years by Staffordshire police officers - the highest rate in the country.

But the investigation concluded the amount of times guns were fired was one of the lowest in the country.

The report did recommend that police officers wear body cameras in future when brandishing the guns.

Staffordshire's Police & Crime Commissioner Matthew Ellis said: "It's part of my job to ensure the police act appropriately in the way Taser is used in Staffordshire.

By Laura Blyth

"That's why I asked the independent Ethic, Transparency and Audit Panel to conduct a thorough review of Taser use after a report by the Independent Police and Complaints Commission (IPCC) showed that Staffordshire appeared to have the highest use in the country in 2013.

"I'm satisfied that police in Staffordshire keep the discharge of Taser to a minimum and in very specific circumstances. As with bodycams, the use of Taser as a deterrent actually reduces potential violence often stopping trouble before it starts.

"The upshot of the review was that Taser discharge rate in Staffordshire was significantly lower than most other places - as are the rate of complaints from the public about Taser use."

The latest figures show that usage of the weapons is down compared to the previous six months. From July to December 2013, West Midlands Police used Tasers 471 times and in Staffordshire it was 263.

Every time a Taser is brandished, a record of its use is made by a police officer and a document is completed.

Staffordshire Horsecwatch was crowned 'Best Country Crime Fighter 2014' for the Midlands by NFU Mutual in a ceremony at Saddlers Hall, London.

The scheme was presented with a cheque for £500 to help fund future anti-crime initiatives in the Midlands.

Staffordshire Horsecwatch uses its own unique tack identification, and, utilising a network of more than 3,500 followers, launched its own Facebook page.

Scheme co-ordinator

PCSO Lucy Hadfield said: "I am proud to accept this accolade on behalf of everyone in the team who has invested so much time and effort in the fight against rural crime."

The team was also commended for its work to help prevent extreme examples of cruelty to horses.

First Charlatans tour since drummer's death

THE Charlatans will play Wolverhampton's Civic Hall on their first tour since drummer Jon Brookes died. Tim Burgess, Mark Collins, Martin Blunt and Tony Rogers said they were determined to carry on following the death of Mr Brookes, who lived in Burntwood and lost his battle with brain cancer in August last year. To coincide with the release of the 12th album, Modern Nature in January, the band will play the Civic on March 13. Keyboard player Rogers said: "Jon was adamant that there was going to be another Charlatans record." Tickets go on sale at 9am tomorrow (Friday). The band will play eight dates in total, starting in Bristol on March 3 and finishing at London's Roundhouse on the 16th.

Ex-Saddlers player strikes up the band

Kyle Perry, front and Stubblemelt bandmates Sarah Timms, Tom Marshall, David Ashford and Amy Collins

A FORMER Walsall striker is now proving a hit as a frontman of a different kind – and is coming back to 'play' at the club's ground.

Kyle Perry, who was released by the Saddlers at the age of 18, now plays for Conference side Altrincham, having also represented Chasetown, Port Vale, Mansfield and Lincoln City. He is also a talented musician and songwriter and fronts the rock band, Stubblemelt whose music is being blasted out of the Banks's Stadium loudspeakers on match days.

A tribute featured in last Saturday's match programme for the visit of Crewe. Perry, aged 28, who also works as a graphic designer, said: "It's really great. I've got a lot of history with Walsall."

"I know that some of the people who are still there from my time keep an eye on our progress and it's nice to know the club are backing us."

Incinerator saves more than £1m in landfill

COUNCIL chiefs say a giant incinerator between Cannock and Wolverhampton has saved Staffordshire County Council more than £1m in landfill costs since April.

The £122 million facility in Four Ashes opened last November and has been accepting waste that cannot be recycled from across the West Midlands.

A report to the authority's prosperous Staffordshire select committee said the overall recycling rates for the county continued to increase to just over 54 per cent, with some councils exceeding 60 per cent.

The target by 2020 is 55 per cent.

Rubbish is transported to the site and burned in a process that produces steam, which drives turbines for electricity.

Rates

The report said: "Since April the plant has saved the county over £1m in landfill costs."

"Overall recycling rates for Staffordshire authorities continue to increase to just over 54 per cent with some councils exceeding 60 per cent."

"The opening of the W2R

By Lisa O'Brien

plant has had no negative effect on recycling rates in the county."

According to the report, no complaints about dust, flies, noise or smells have been received.

Some issues with litter on the approach road have been experienced and litter clearing and sweeping has been enhanced as a result.

Work on the development started in June 2011 as part of the council's plans to deliver savings of up to £250 million over 25 years.

During construction of the plant, more than 300 people were employed at the site at any one time.

The plant now employs 36 full time staff.

Santa at festive market

FATHER Christmas will be in attendance at a festive market at a Brereton church.

The Christmas Market is being held at St Michael's Church, Main Road, from noon until 3pm on Saturday, November 29.

Other attractions will include a grand draw, tombola, book and crafts stalls, toys and bottles.

Refreshments will be available and there will also be a grand draw.

HS2 link at Handsacre confirmed by officials

THE Government has confirmed a link between the controversial HS2 line and Stafford will be built.

The announcement was made during the latest round of hearings about the project.

It had originally been suggested that the nine-mile link in Handsacre would be scrapped to save money in Sir David Higgins's latest report released later this month.

Last week, campaigners revealed that officials had told them it would remain in the plans. Now, the Department for Transport has confirmed that the link will be built if the HS2 Bill is passed in the House of Commons.

Construction

Timothy Mould QC, lead counsel for the Department for Transport, told the HS2 committee: "Firstly, in relation to Handsacre junction and the construction, the assurance that we have given is this: if the Bill is enacted, including powers to construct the junction of the HS2 railway with the West Coast Mainline at Handsacre - that is to say the Handsacre junction - the promoter will require the nominated undertaker, if it constructs any part of the railway authorised by the Bill, to complete the construction of the Handsacre junction."

If the link was axed, Stafford would lose its planned high speed service but save 2.6 miles of countryside.

Under the plans, high speed trains will come off at Lichfield and pass through Stafford station on existing lines as part of the first phase.

However, once the second phase is finished, the majority of high speed trains will not use the link to Stafford, with only an hourly service between the county town and London joining up with the HS2 line at Lichfield before it goes on the Handsacre.

Stafford council leaders say the link will bring a boost to the economy but insist they are still opposed to the project as a whole.

Sir David Higgins will present his report on October 27, when he is also expected to announce that Crewe will get a new 'hub' station.

Leaders from Staffordshire County Council and Lichfield District Council were due to appear before the HS2 committee last week as it works through the hundreds of objections.

But they pulled out after developers agreed to run the line below the A38 near Lichfield rather than over viaducts.

Firms bidding to win contract for rail project

CARILLION is one of 19 companies across the Black Country and Staffordshire vying to win £10 billion worth of HS2 contracts.

Business leaders from two Wolverhampton firms, nine from Staffordshire, four from Walsall, three from Dudley, and one from Sandwell will meet with experts from the high speed rail project to find out more about bidding for work.

The two conferences are being held in London and Manchester as the £50bn scheme moves closer towards construction with a planned start in 2017.

Sources say the companies most likely to win contracts are those that attend the conferences.

The firms range from those employing almost 5,000 people to some employing fewer than 10 - and supply a wide range of products, from construction and design to information and communications services.

HS2 will be Europe's biggest construction project, linking Manchester and Leeds to London via Birmingham and slashing journey times.

HS2 Chief Executive, Simon Kirby said: "Building HS2 is a massive, long-term project; one that offers huge opportunity for large and small companies right across the country."

"To construct it, and then bring it to life will require a vast range of skills and expertise, some of which we have and some we'll need to develop."

"To deliver a project of HS2's scale and complexity we are committed to working with companies who share our collaborative values. So, I am extremely pleased so many firms have already shown an interest in helping to deliver HS2."

Family's plea as driver in fatal crash walks free

A DRIVER who knocked down a man and drove off leaving him with fatal injuries has walked free from court.

Jamey Coleman, aged 24, was hit by a car on the A5 Watling Street, in Brownhills, on his way back from a birthday party at the White Horse pub on March 30. The former Brownhills School pupil, of Springhill Road, died the next day.

Motorist 23-year-old Bethany Ward, did not stop and was jailed for four months suspended for a year for failing to stop and failing to report an accident. Mr Coleman's family have now launched a campaign for her to be prosecuted under a more serious charge.

The Crown Prosecution Service (CPS) said she was charged with the lesser traffic offences after a senior prosecutor reviewed the case and found that there was no physical evidence at the scene of the collision, no CCTV evidence and very little eyewitness evidence.

After the hearing attended by Mr Coleman's family and friends his mother Tracey, 51, said: "I am so angry. There is no justice for Jamey. She faces two motoring offences and walks free. She can do what she wants, go to work and carry on with her life. She has taken that away from my son."

"The sentence is really disappointing. It makes you lose faith in the police."

Jamey's aunt Kirston Swann, 36, revealed the family was now writing to the CPS to appeal for Ward to be charged with the more serious charge of causing death by dangerous driving or death by careless driving.

Defendant Bethany Ward arrives at court

Review

Restaurant worker Ward, aged 23, of Bentons Lane, Great Wyrley, was banned from the road for 12 months by Walsall magistrates, given a 12-month community order and told to carry out 250 hours unpaid work, along with being ordered to pay £85 costs and £80 victim surcharge.

CPS spokesman Vinny Bolina said the service had written to the family in September to explain its decision, but that the Colemans were entitled to a Victim's Rights Review if they disagreed.

Mr Giles Rowden, prosecuting, told the court that Mr Coleman was on his way home with friend Thomas Tonks when he was struck, and that both men had been drinking.

He said: "Mr Tonks says his friend Jamey was ahead of him. He then became aware of his friend flying through the air and saw a light coloured hatchback car. He did not recall seeing brake lights or see the drive attempt to stop."

Mr Chris Loach, defending, said: "She acknowledges that this is a tragedy for the family. It is clearly a distressing time."

It's more Lady Blah-Blah than Gaga

Lady Gaga, NIA, Birmingham
LADY Gaga gets the applause from her Little Monsters, as she calls her fans, but her spectacular two-hour show lacked momentum.

This is partly because Gaga likes to jaw jaw. Her homilies on creativity, self-belief and equality turn into sermons. Surely she must know she is preaching to the converted.

I wonder how many in the audience would have preferred to have heard

Judas performed in full, rather than blended into Aura, or a complete The Edge of Glory, rather than the snippet we got. However. Just Dance, Poker Face and Bad Romance were fantastic.

Gaga's outfits included a mermaid bikini, a cross between a Dalmatian and an octopus, a girl out of a Japanese comic and, in homage to Cher as she covered Bang Bang, a curly brown wig and red leather jacket. Often she was wearing a lot less.

She wrapped herself in a Union Flag thrown on stage by a fan and at the piano Lady showed her vocal power with a stunning performance of the ballad Dope. She read out an emotional letter from a fan called Jason before bringing him and his boyfriend on stage to serenade them with a slow version of Born This Way. Moments for Little Monsters to treasure. Lady Gaga is back at the NIA on November 13.

Lakeman whips up the energy

Seth Lakeman

Town Hall, Birmingham
IF you want someone to whip a crowd into a frenzy using horsehair then Seth Lakeman is your man.

The Devonshire singer's Word of Mouth tour arrived in the second city with the thumping track, The Courier.

Straight away Lakeman showed his signature style of hammering his fiddle like a scout frantically trying to start a fire using two sticks.

This set the pace for most of the night which was, apart from a few slow ones in King & Country, Shores of Normandy and Portrait of My Wife - which he did as a duet with Lisbee Stainton, high energy and full of musical enthusiasm.

The audience were itching to get out of their seats and with The Colliers Lakeman finally let them off the leash and there was dancing in the aisles.

Lakeman went out as his came in with all guns blazing with Kitty Jay and Blood Upon Copper never throwing support act Kim Churchill into the mix.

Michael Legge as George and Benjamin Dilloway as Lennie

1930s tragedy that still packs a punch

Of Mice And Men, Birmingham Rep

JOHN Steinbeck's tragic tale of broken dreams in 1930s rural America still packs a punch in this stark and brutally effective production at The Rep.

The story is based on the relationship between a pair of migrant agricultural workers. Fast-talking dreamer George looks after his slow-witted but strong companion Lennie, as their latest casual job on a Californian ranch leads to an apparently inevitable calamity due to Lennie's uncontrollable urge for affection.

Director Roxana Silbert's production doesn't shy away from the casual racism and sexism prevalent in that time and place, including frequent use of the 'n' word.

The bleakness of the situation is represented by Liz Ascroft's desolate set.

The cast bring out the dark humour in Of Mice And Men, as well as the heartache. Michael Legge superbly portrays a man having his hopes crushed as George, whilst Benjamin Dilloway is hugely sympathetic as child-like Lennie.

Of Mice And Men continues until November 1. LB

The bawdy boys' songs of sailors

Fisherman's Friends

Town Hall, Birmingham
THERE are no frills, no light shows, no smoke machines in fact very little in terms of a stage show at all, it's simply about the voices of the eight ordinary blokes from Port Isaac.

They did pretty much what they do most Friday nights in their native fishing village during summer, stand around and sing traditional songs and sea shanties with the occasional bit of banter mostly from front-man John Cleave.

This was the band's third time in the Second City and they kicked off with a very bawdy tale based loosely on the famous shanty, Blow the Man Down.

As individuals their voices aren't particularly outstanding but then when they harmonise as a group you get the real point of Fisherman's Friends.

Their rather theatrical rendition of Coast of High Barbary, a tale of spooks and ghost ships was a real treat. Their act is good, honest and down to earth and great to listen to.

Hogging limelight at Boys Brigade

Cheslyn Hay Boys Brigade meet Cellie and Joan Lockley from the West Midlands Hedgehog Rescue Centre

CHESLYN Hay Boys' Brigade got up close and personal with a hedgehog from a rescue centre. Joan Lockley, who runs the West Midlands Hedgehog Rescue Centre from her home in the village, paid a visit to the adventure group and brought along one of the creatures, Cellie.

Joan spoke to boys in the Anchor section, aged from five-to-eight. A spokesman said: "The boys had a wonderful time asking many questions and being informed about what to do if a hedgehog needs help. They also had the opportunity to meet a hedgehog up close."

Anyone interested in joining the Boys' Brigade in Cheslyn Hay can find out more at <http://chbb.echsvle.com/> or by contacting Captain David Slater on 01922416670.

Level crossing to close

A LEVEL crossing will close at the end of next year as part of the multi-million pound electrification of the Chase Line.

Moves to shut off the Reeves Street barrier crossing, which links Bloxwich town centre and the surrounding industrial estates is expected to begin at the end of 2015.

Network Rail want to remove the crossing as part of the £30m electrification of the rail line between Rugeley and Walsall. A footbridge for walkers and cyclists is expected to be created. It means the rail line speed will increase from 45mph to at least 75mph and will allow an increased number of trains to use the route.

To allow the trains to travel faster, and not be slowed down by a level crossing, the barrier is earmarked for removal.

A statement from Network Rail said: "Work at Bloxwich level crossing is not due to start until the end of 2015, to be completed by summer 2016. We will continue to communicate with residents and local businesses as our work to improve the railway in the Walsall area progresses."

It is expected the Central Drive bridge will be strengthened to cope with extra traffic.

The track between Rugeley and Walsall will have to be lowered as part of the electrification project, leading to disruption for commuters. The work needs to be carried out to enable room for overhead power lines to be installed.

Oliver left the audience calling for more please

The cast of South Staffs Musical Theatre Company's production with 10-year-old James Shaw as Oliver

Oliver! Wolverhampton Grand
It was not just Oliver Twist left wanting more when South Staffs Musical Theatre Company presented this rollicking production of one of Britain's best loved musicals.

Lionel Bart's retelling of Dickens' story about Victorian London low-lives was given full justice by an amateur company whose ability matched their ambition and enthusiasm.

This was an ensemble effort in which everyone emerged with credit, particularly director and choreographer Maria Shee and musical director

Phil James. Performers adopted their best Cockney accents, with varying success, and sang with gusto.

However, some stars shine a little brighter than others, so take a bow Lexie Bennett. As Nancy she acted with conviction and emotion, then got the biggest applause of the night with her showstopping performance of As Long As He Needs Me.

She is one to watch for in the future, as is young Ollie Hart-Bradford, every inch the pint-sized geezer as the Artful Dodger. James Shaw was sweet-voiced and delicate as a very young Oliver, although he showed his feisty side by really laying into Andrew Newton's loud-mouthed bully Noah Claypole. James Collins played a gruff Bill Sykes with serious anger management issues. Perhaps he was upset that his dog Bullseye was such a scene stealer, timing his barks for maximum impact.

Fine comic support came from Alf Rai as Mr Bumble, Veronica Bould's waspish Widow Corney, John Wiley and Sheila Wood as the gloomy Sowerberrys, and Greg Yates in a lovely cameo as the pompous Dr Grimwig. Roger Stokes was a dependable Mr Brownlow and Mike Thomas teased poignancy as well as comedy out of the role of Fagin.

Rugeley

St Augustine's Church in Rugeley was built in 1882 and features memorials to the Levett family who established the Rugeley Home and Cottage Hospital on Church Street in 1866. It also houses the tombstone of John Parsons Cook, victim of the town's most notorious inhabitant William Palmer, aka The Poisoner.

Dr Palmer, born in 1824 and educated at the local grammar school, owed money to Parsons Cook, a bookmaker, and after a 12-day trial was found guilty of his murder. He was publicly executed in Stafford. The tale was featured in a TV documentary starring Keith Allen as Palmer. Another notorious Rugeley tale is that of Christina Collins, who was killed by boatmen as she travelled to London to be with her husband. Her body was carried up what are now known as the Bloody Steps by the Trent & Mersey Canal in June 1839. Christina's grave can also be seen today in the churchyard at St Augustine's. Three of the four bargemen were charged with her murder. The story of her murder was the inspiration for an Inspector Morse mystery entitled The Wench Is Dead.

A major roadworks scheme through the town has recently been completed.

It has led to the main two-lane thoroughfare through Horsefair narrowed to a single-lane, allowing for car-parking in the central reservation. Work first began last Autumn.

As well as single-lane traffic, the work has also seen traffic lights removed and replaced with roundabouts at the junctions with St. Paul's Road and also Armitage Road.

Speed humps along the road are also being introduced.

Tony Robinson

Walking Through History: Bronte Country (Channel 4, 8pm)

Tony Robinson has spent three series of this programme rambling through some of Britain's most extraordinary landscapes. In fact, he's covered so many miles, it's a wonder there are any places he hasn't been. Nevertheless, the actor-turned-presenter must have been scouring his Ordnance Survey maps closely, because he's back with another bunch of epic treks, beginning with one that takes in the dramatic moors and valleys of West Yorkshire. It's the area that inspired such amazing pieces of literature as the Bronte sisters' Wuthering Heights and Jane Eyre, and Tony does indeed follow in their footsteps by visiting their birthplace in Thornton and their old home at the parsonage in the village of Haworth.

Len Goodman, Bruno Tonioli, Craig Revel Horwood and Darcey Bussell are the ones to impress as the hopefuls perform a mixture of routines.

8.20 Doctor Who. One morning, the human race wakes up to find the planet has been invaded by its own trees, as overnight a forest has grown everywhere and taken back the Earth. The people are stunned but the Doctor knows more – this bizarre stranglehold of vegetation means the final days of humanity have finally arrived. Peter Capaldi stars in an episode scripted by Frank Cottrell Boyce, the writer of movies including 24 Hour Party People and The Railway Man.

9.05 Casualty. Connie has a complaint made against her, while Dixie continues to argue about Jeff – causing ripples through the department and a confrontation with Ash, who still feels guilty about his colleague's death. Grimefighter TV star
Lew Carrington

LEWIS Carrington was born to be a star. A natural funnyman, he won the nation's hearts in the TV documentary Grimefighters. Known as Lew to his friends, he laughs easily as he recalls his brush with fame and as the unlikely adopted ambassador for the city of Wolverhampton. Topping 1,500 members of his Grimefighters' Fan Club on social networking website Facebook, Lew had his supporters clamouring for him to appear in the New Year's Honours list. Still a well-known character on the city streets four years after sharing his unique take on life before the cameras, Lew is now enjoying retirement from his life of grime and a cameo appearance on Harry Hill's Get Toasted. But hidden beneath the smiles and priceless one-liners, the jovial comic genius was struggling with another often-comedic subject – dentures. And indirectly, the former environmental waste operative owes his celebrity status to an ill-fitting set of them. "I could have retired from the council earlier, but wanted to save enough money to get my problem fixed," says Lew. Wife Gill adds: "He'd seen the stories in the papers about how other people had their problems sorted out and had also done a lot of internet research."

Come and meet our dentist Polly

As part of improvements for the patient experience at North Street a general dentistry practice works alongside the denture prescribing team.

"This one-stop service has always been the case, but people are still finding out about North Street Dental Clinic," said principal Steven Burchell DipCDT RCS(Eng) GDC108353. Dental surgeon Polly (GDC No 188090), a Doctor of Dental Medicine with a particular interest in restorative, cosmetic and paediatric fields, looks after the patients. She joined the team in Dudley after working in Michigan at one of America's most prestigious cosmetic dental centres.

A dental plan practice, it offers everything from a simple filling to complex restorative procedures and implant dentistry. Initial consultations are complementary.

Lew gets last laugh with failing teeth

“My top denture wasn’t too bad, but the lower moved all around with eating and laughing was risky. I’d had the trouble for years – every time I’d have a bit of tough steak, I was done for.

“I was a bit apprehensive, but I need not have been. I had two implants to stabilise my lower denture and I never felt a thing. I expected a lot of discomfort, but after a couple of days I was absolutely fine.

“Steve made me the over-dentures for the bottom and a new top set of teeth. They are absolutely great. Nothing was too much trouble for any of the friendly staff and going to see Steve was a pleasure.

“Going to the dentist had never been so good and I am over the moon with the results.”

On his star role in Grimefighters, Lew recalls: “There were some funny moments. We’d had a call to pick up a dead cat in Penfields. They said the animal was on the end of a drive. I looked everywhere and couldn’t see it.

“There was a charity collection going on in the road where people had left clothing in bags for pick up. By the time I’d found out that the cat had been put into one of them, it had been collected by the charity and the van was disappearing down the road.

“Somebody was going to get a surprise,” adds Lew with a wry smile.

PICK OF THE WEEK

Secrets and lies from the past come to light

How do you like your dramas? Straight down the line, or with a twist or two? Maybe with an offbeat or supernatural element, and perhaps a few stars thrown in for good measure? If you're nodding your head in answer of any or all of those questions, then Intruders, a new, eight-part series made by BBC America, could be for you.

Taking the lead is John Simm, and any new programme featuring him is always worth a look.

But when you hear he's appearing in something that has already gone down a storm in the US, it becomes a must-see.

The only problem is, if it becomes as big a hit as it seems set to do, Intruders may take Simm away from our own shores for some time, because he will suddenly become a man in demand Stateside.

So brace yourself for that happening – and for the big hole in British drama that Simm will leave if he does depart.

Intruders is a paranormal drama based on a novel by acclaimed English author Michael Marshall Smith, who claims he was inspired to write it by the notion that we can, at times, seem like more than one person.

It has an excellent pedigree in other respects too – the script has been written by Glen Morgan, who is also the executive producer; genre fans will be familiar with him via his work on The X-Files.

What's more, several episodes have been directed by Eduardo Sanchez, who first found fame via his work on low-budget smash-hit horror movie The Blair Witch Project in 1999.

The rest have been helmed by Daniel Stamm, whose previous work includes the films 13 Sins and The Last Exorcism.

Intruders made its debut in the US in August, and when it was broadcast alongside the first episode of Peter Capaldi's stint in Doctor Who, helped land the station its biggest-ever Saturday night ratings.

Kim Shillinglaw, Controller of BBC Two, says: "Drama on BBC Two continues to be a stand-out success and we have plenty more to look forward to this year, from the return of hit series Peaky Blinders and The Fall, to this striking new thriller. "With a world renowned cast and an impressive creative team, this chilling and contemporary drama will keep viewers on the edge of their seats this autumn."

The plot focuses on a shadowy organisation dedicated to chasing immortality by inhabiting other people's bodies.

Simm stars as ex-LA cop Jack Whelan, who becomes suspicious of the group's activities after his wife Amy disappears.

Whelan becomes obsessed with tracking Amy down, using the skills he learnt as a cop to follow her trail. But as he becomes increasingly consumed by his quest, he begins to question whether he really knew her at all...

Oscar-winning actress Mira Sorvino also stars, alongside James Frain, Millie Brown and Tony Kittles.

"Intruders is a truly unsettling drama – eerie, intriguing, complex and compelling", says Sue Deeks, head of BBC programme acquisition.

We can't wait to see for ourselves.

John Simm and Mira Sorvino star in Intruders, Monday, BBC2, 9pm

BEST OF THE REST

MONDAY

Marilyn Monroe: The Missing Evidence
Channel 5, 8pm

New series. Investigating the evidence that supports some of the world's most notorious conspiracy theories. Though she officially committed suicide, some people have long claimed that the FBI, the Mafia and even the Kennedy family may have been involved in Marilyn Monroe's death. This programme looks at some of these claims, and also reveals the contents of tape recordings made inside Monroe's house on the fateful day of August 5, 1962, which suggest her psychiatrist may have been responsible for her death.

Baby P: The Untold Story
BBC1, 8.30pm

In November 2008, the story of the death of a 17-month-old toddler horrified the nation. Then known only as Baby P, he had been subjected to a prolonged period of abuse and neglect. But perhaps the most shocking part of the story involved the authorities whose job it was to protect Baby P, later named as Peter Connelly. It was revealed that he and his family were visited more than 60 times by various agencies, and yet his suffering continued. This documentary examines the story in detail, and speaks to some of those connected with the case and its aftermath.

TUESDAY

The Missing
BBC1, 9pm

A strong cast and a premise that plays on every parent's nightmare should make this new drama series unmissable. James Nesbitt and Frances O'Connor star as Tony and Emily Hughes, whose five-year-old son Oliver goes missing during a family holiday in France in 2006. The strain takes it toll on their marriage, but Tony refuses to give up hope that his son will be found alive, so when a new shred of evidence emerges, eight years on from Oliver's disappearance, the father returns to France.

WEDNESDAY

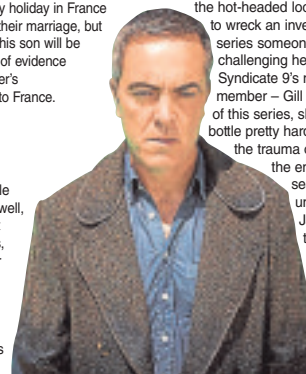

The Apprentice
BBC1, 9pm

It's safe to say the recent 'wearable technology' task didn't go all that well, as the girls came up with a jacket with solar-powered shoulder pads, while the boys designed a jumper with an inbuilt camera that Daniel Lassman pitched to a retailer by admitting he probably wouldn't wear it in public. However, this week, the would-be entrepreneurs are getting a second chance to prove that they are savvy when it comes to 21st-century technology, as Alan Sugar challenges them to create their own online video channels to go live on YouTube.

Scott & Bailey
ITV, 9pm

We always thought Rachel was supposed to be the hot-headed loose cannon most likely to wreck an investigation, but in this series someone else has been challenging her for the title of Syndicate 9's most irresponsible member – Gill Murray. Over the course of this series, she's been hitting the bottle pretty hard (probably do deal with the trauma of being kidnapped at the end of the previous season), and it's not gone unnoticed by Rachel and Janet. However, following the discovery of slaves on the Pritchard farm, Syndicate 9 is under more scrutiny than ever – which means it's a particularly disastrous time for the boss to come in reeking of booze.

The Missing, Tuesday, BBC1, 9pm

THURSDAY

Life Story
BBC1, 9pm

Sir David Attenborough's back on our screens having travelled the globe in filming his latest series, Life Story, in which he narrates the stories of animals' journeys through life. In this second episode, he follows a tiger cub whose family is under threat, a vulnerable veined octopus and a pair of sibling cheetahs guarding against starvation, and the naturalist explains how the animals develop new skills and learn how to survive on their own.

FRIDAY

Citizen Khan
BBC1, 8.30pm

During a recent episode of Would I Lie To You? Adil Ray revealed he had once been told off by a Greek boat owner for sailing too far out to sea. That's definitely not to kind of thing Mr Khan would get up to. Ray writes and stars in this sitcom about Khan's often fraught life, and while many may be surprised to see it back for a new series – it hasn't always had great reviews – it has grown an army of fans big enough to warrant a recommitment. The first episode sees the Khan family return from a trip to Pakistan with Mrs Khan's mother in tow. Mr Khan isn't pleased about her presence, but cheers up when she announces her plan to move into a care home.

HOW CAN GOODCHILDS FIND A BUYER FOR YOUR PROPERTY BEFORE CHRISTMAS?

With many sources such as home.co.uk last week reporting the average time a property is on the market in Wolverhampton before securing a sale is 132 days! then how can Goodchilts be so sure they can sell you property before Christmas, just over 60 days away.

Most statistics used by website's or reported by newspapers when discussing the property market are an average of all Estate Agents. This mean's they include the good Estate Agents in the statistics but also the poor performing Estate Agents and the distinctly average performing estate agents. Well Goodchilts is far from average they have won awards every year for the past six years for their exceptional service in the Estate Agency sector and their outstanding performance to their clients. Winning gold for Best Midlands Estate Agency It is no surprise that Goodchilts find buyers far quicker than the average time of a 132 days !!! In fact the Goodchilts team are so confident they are setting the challenge to prove they are more than twice as Good as the average Estate Agent or pay you £500 cash back.

IF YOUR PROPERTY IS ON THE MARKET WITH ANOTHER AGENT THEN TAKE THE FOLLOWING CHALLENGE:

- ✓ AVERAGE ESTATE AGENT 132 DAYS
- ✓ 64 DAYS TO CHRISTMAS
- ✓ GOODCHILDS GUARANTEE TO FIND YOU A BUYER BEFORE CHRISTMAS OR PAY YOU £500 WHEN THEY DO!

Don't panic the award winning Goodchilts team have not gone crazy or so overconfident they are just giving money away. Whilst 64 Days is twice as good as the average Estate Agent and exceptionally good for most good Estate Agents the reason they are so confident is that 64 days is actually more than the average time it takes your local Goodchilts to find a buyer for their vendors. The average time from instruction to sold for properties instructed in the last 6 months for Goodchilts is less than 60 days !

The Goodchilts team only get paid their bonus on completion of your sale meaning your goal to get your property sold and paid is completely aligned with our sales teams goal to get your property sold so Goodchilts get paid their commission and the sales team get paid there bonus. As well as ensure that your property gets sold we also monitor how close our team achieve in relation to your asking price and ensure we are the leading Estate Agents when it comes to achieving sales prices that are closer to your asking price than the average Estate Agent.

The Goodchilts team are also aware that selling your property is obviously the exciting part of any property move. However we are also aware that excitement is just one day and that there is a whole sales journey and customer experience that must also be exceptional if we are to keep winning awards. With this in mind our team only achieve their top level sales commission if they achieve over 94% Customer satisfaction which is marked by YOU rating them as exception not just good or satisfactory. A 17 branch network with offices in Wolverhampton, Wednesfield, Wednesbury, Telford, Tamworth, Sutton Coldfield, Stoke-on-Trent, Stafford, Milton Keynes, Lichfield, Erdington, Cannock, Blomwich, Rugby (opening Jan) Brownhills and Birmingham provides you with a network of branches and an award winning team to sell your property. When only the best will do

By Anthony Martyn

Car manufacturers have had to work hard to dispel the popular image of the used car salesman.

Look around the market today at the many manufacturer-led used car programmes and you'll have to agree that the industry has polished up its image more than a little.

One such scheme is Ford Direct, available from specially appointed Ford Direct dealers who have undergone as rigid an assessment as the cars themselves. Ford Direct dealers are professionals. But don't worry that you'll be pressured into buying a car you don't want – that's another image the motor industry has worked hard to dispel.

There are several clear plus points to consider – there's a comprehensive two-year warranty, two-year's full RAC recovery within the car price, a 30-day/1,000 mile 'no quibble' exchange policy and preparation to Ford standards. Should you wish to change your car, Ford will cover any of the costs involved and cover the next vehicle you choose with the same 30-day/1,000 mile guarantee (though this time, the car must be faulty if you want to swap it).

The two-year warranty covers every component and consequential damaged caused by a warranted part failure. Catalytic converters are covered too, though the scheme doesn't include provision for wear and tear. There's no mileage limit on claims you can make, the value of which are limited only by the price you paid for the car.

The validity of warranty cover has long been a worry for buyers. With Ford Direct they know that they're dealing with one of the professionals and that their warranty will be absolutely watertight should a problem occur.

The scheme is based around Ford cars of up to four years in age and with less than 50,000 miles on the clock. Ford Direct cars come from Ford's own management fleet and the large rental firms. Before delivering to dealers, Ford will inspect and recondition each car at a purpose-built facility.

Here, if the car has completed more than 9,000 miles, it's given a full 10,000-mile service and its records and service history are brought up to date. Then there are exhaustive preliminary checks, which cover every aspect of the car's bodywork and mechanical condition.

For example, amongst many tests, the car will be rejected if any dents are visible from a two metre distance at an angle of ninety degrees to the bodywork or if any of the exterior trim, bumpers or body protection mouldings are found to be cracked, split, dented or loose.

Other checks are no less thorough, covering everything from the state of the wind-shield and window glass to the locks and from the power steering fluid level to the security and free play of the driveshaft.

Once everything's done – and after a thorough road test – the RAC will check that standards are up to scratch and apply a tamper-proof hologram to the windscreen. That visible symbol of quality and reassurance is a welcome part of the scheme.

There's two year's RAC cover included, though you only get the additional accident management policy if you choose to insure your car with Ford. If the RAC can't fix your car within 24 hours, you get a replacement hire car for up to a week. Or there's the option of a night's hotel for you and your passengers or paid-for public transport to get home or to your destination.

'Ford was praised by What Car? in a survey of manufacturer warranty programmes for its innovative used car-buying schemes.'

At any Ford Direct dealer, you'll find a sales team with time to discuss your needs – go into detail about the car you want to buy and ask for information about finance too. Do business with an organisation that has the Ford name behind it and you'll find plenty of choice – and flexibility.

Sheer size can be daunting, of course, but individual dealers pride themselves on personal service. Your business matters, whether you're buying a Fiesta or a fleet. Every customer will benefit from the huge network which Ford Direct has established.

Mazda3 sets benchmark

By David Banner

There's a lot to tempt buyers to take a look at the new Mazda3. It has strong residual values, lowest average depreciation and 2014/15 company car benefit-in-kind tax bills lower than a host of rivals.

Data from vehicle valuation experts CAP Automotive reveals the new SKYACTIV Mazda3 range tops the table and beats lower-medium sector rivals in terms of average forecasted pound-note depreciation.

And company car drivers wanting to cut their benefit-in-kind tax bills can make significant savings against more expensive rivals.

The all-new Mazda3 is the third car in the marque's line-up to benefit from SKYACTIV technology and the 36-strong model line-up offers precision handling, exceptionally generous interior cabin space and sporty design. And it certainly has proved popular since hitting the roads at the turn of the year, with sales exceeding all expectations at around 3,000 for the first quarter.

And starting with the looks, if cars did benefit from working out, it would be the new Mazda3. It's lost weight, and become shapelier, more agile and has rivals looking on with envy. While it bears the same name as the outgoing hatchback, the Mazda3 is new from the ground up. Larger than its predecessor but engineered for fuel economy, it has features which have also paid dividends in terms of safety, roadholding and the fun-to-drive factor.

The car is a fraction lower, visually fitting in with its curving lines and sculpted surfaces while also helping to reduce drag. In the four-door Fastback, the long boot has a useful 419 litres of space, slightly more than its hatchback stablemate which also has the practicality of split/fold rear seats.

The fascia is made of what looks like durable textured plastics, with an instrument binnacle comprising two information displays either side of a large rev counter. Inset is a big, clear digital speed readout.

The latest Mazda3 gets four engine options, all of which are designed around Mazda's SkyActiv technology. SkyActiv aims to improve efficiency by reducing weight and utilising smart functions such as capturing waste energy to power things like the air-conditioning when the car is stationary.

Closes

It even extends to functions like an active shutter front grille which closes for better aerodynamics when the engine isn't in immediate need of cooling.

Engines comprise an entry-level 1.5-litre petrol and two 2.0-litre petrol units, as well as a 2.2-litre diesel.

The 1.5-litre engine produces 99bhp and will go from rest to 62mph in 10.8 seconds, while the 2.2-litre diesel will cover the sprint in 8.1 seconds, thanks to its punchy 148bhp engine.

The 2.0-litre petrol engine is offered in two options – one with 118bhp and the other with 165bhp. As for performance, 0 to 62mph in 8.9 seconds for the standard version and 8.2 seconds for the higher power version. Buyers of the 118bhp 2.0-litre petrol and the 2.2-litre diesel are also offered the option of a six-speed automatic.

The car is offered with the sort of hi-tech features that not so very long ago were the preserve of luxury saloons. There are refinements like a head-up display, touch-screen satellite-navigation and mobile internet connectivity. The mobile system is particularly interesting, following the likes of Toyota into the market with a system which allows the car to pair with a smartphone and display Facebook and Twitter updates. A nine-speaker Bose audio system is also available.

'Company car drivers wanting to cut their benefit-in-kind tax bills can make significant savings against more expensive rivals.'

Buyers choose between SE, SE-L and Sport trim levels, with or without sat nav. Even the base SE comes with 16in alloy wheels, air conditioning, power-folding heated mirrors, a leather steering wheel, a trip computer, a radio/CD with six speaker audio system, 7in TFT colour touch screen, USB/iPod connectivity and a Bluetooth system. All models also come with Smart City Brake Support (SCBS) which helps to reduce or prevent low-speed collisions by automatically applying the brakes if the driver fails to act, plus there's Hill Hold Assist (HHA) to prevent roll-back.

The latest car looks a good deal more assured, with a vastly improved interior, a focus on improving efficiency and a really sharp exterior styling job.

On-the-road prices start at £16,695 for the all-new Mazda3 1.5-litre SKYACTIV-G 100ps SE Hatchback.

Pulsar looks like business

By James Parker

Nissan re-enters the family hatchback sector with the Pulsar, a somewhat conservative alternative to its extrovert crossovers like the Juke. The engine range is limited but will expand with sportier models coming on stream. It's early days yet but the omens appear very promising.

Almost a decade ago, Nissan did something radical, something that's never been done by a mass market car manufacturer before. It abandoned the traditional genres of family hatches and medium range saloons, ditching the Almera and Primera models and concentrated instead on crossovers and SUVs. Cars like the massive-selling Qashqai and the Juke became Nissan's bread and butter and many other manufacturers scrambled to copy Nissan's model of success.

You can probably guess what happens next. Just as everyone else jumps ship to flood the market with lookalike crossovers, Nissan has decided to go back to the market it last served with the rather forgettable Almera. This time it revives an old name.

The Pulsar has been fitted with an all-turbocharged range of engines, as is the current vogue, largely carried over from the Qashqai range.

Popular

Petrol buyers don't get a lot of choice as its stands with just a downsized 115PS 1.2-litre DIG-T engine available, although dealers will take orders for the 190PS 1.6-litre DIG-T that's proven popular in the Juke.

Choose diesel, as most UK buyers in this class do, and you get to select between a 110PS 1.6-litre diesel and, well, that's it.

Where the diesel is solely offered with a six-speed manual transmission, the petrol engine comes with the choice of a manual or a six-speed Xtronic automatic gearbox.

Nissan hasn't done anything too radical to the styling of the Pulsar. It's almost as if they want to re-enter the market quietly, appealing to more conservative buyers who couldn't picture themselves behind the wheel of a Juke or a Qashqai.

The Barcelona-built Pulsar features instantly recognisable Nissan hallmarks like the V-motion grille and boomerang-shaped lighting signature with bold and energetic curves on the body side.

It features some bold surfacing on the flanks although there are aspects of the rear end that are quite Corolla.

The interior features higher quality materials than we've seen on Nissan hatches to date, and there seems to have been a concerted effort to create a common look and feel across typefaces and grains on the dash. Thanks to the longest wheelbase in the class at 2,700mm, the Pulsar offers considerably more rear legroom and shoulder room than its sector rivals.

The entry level Visia is priced from £15,995 and gets a strong standard equipment count including a 5" colour screen, steering wheel mounted controls, Bluetooth and air conditioning. Step up to the Acenta model and another £1,700 or so nets you added extras like Forward Emergency Braking, automatic lights and wipers and Nissan's ingenious i-Key system.

The n-tec versions adds 17" alloys, privacy glass and Nissan's signature LED lights. It also offers a colour reversing camera and NissanConnect 2, an infotainment system offering full smartphone integration, Google Send-to-Car and access to a wide variety of apps. At the top of the range is the Tekna, priced from £20,345, which gets further Nissan Safety Shield Technologies including Forward Emergency Braking, Moving Object Detection, Lane Departure Warning and Blind Spot Warning for the ultimate in passenger protection.

Even the entry level model is well kitted out for safety equipment with six airbags, wheel-mounted audio controls, a tyre pressure monitoring system, anti lock brakes backed up by electronic brakeforce distribution, and a stability control system that also include Nissan's Active Trace Control, which keeps you from deviating from your steered path.

We suspect that this will be a toe in the water for Nissan with more charismatic NISMO performance models slated for future release.

It's been a long time coming but the Pulsar looks as if it means business.

Kia aims to sell its Soul

By Sharon Walters

Kia's still got Soul. In fact it's back with a second generation version of its cubic little supermini-MPV.

The second generation Kia Soul is a much-improved proposition.

Granted, it needed to be to avoid being left behind in a market sector stuffed with talented rivals, but in becoming bigger, much better finished, with slicker suspension and better refinement, Kia has equipped the Soul for success. As before, it offers a trendier take on supermini motoring.

The original Kia Soul was a great example of a car that looked great on paper but didn't really cut it when you got behind the wheel. It didn't ride very well, it wasn't packaged as cleverly as it should have been and the interior design never lived up to the bold promise of that cubist exterior. Kia as a company has come a long way in recent years and it doesn't have room on its books for a nearly car, so to that end, the Soul has been replaced with a second generation model that's new from the ground up.

Well, perhaps that's a mild exaggeration, as it shares its chassis with the Kia cee'd but anyone who's driven a cee'd will appreciate that this promises good things. The Soul didn't sell too badly but it could have made a much bigger impact. Kia's confident that this current car will catch up and then some.

Where the old Soul had a jarring ride, moribund steering and poor refinement, the MK2 model aims to offer a much more involving drive. A modified version of the cee'd chassis is tasked with improving the Soul's ride and handling. The front subframe utilises four bushings to improve refinement and reduce harshness. The shock absorbers on the torsion bar rear suspension have been turned vertically and lengthened, allowing for more suspension travel and improved ride comfort. The front suspension and steering box have also been altered to improve stability, lend better balance and yield benefits to on-centre steering feel.

The engines comprise 1.6-litre petrol and diesel engines and a choice of six-speed manual or automatic transmissions. Both engines are carried over from the outgoing model, but have been tweaked to offer improved efficiency and more competitive emissions.

Kia has quite sensibly not fiddled too much with the most successful part of the Soul – its exterior styling. It's still the same block-shaped profile that works well, this time updated with some cleverer detailing. Much of this has been influenced by the 2012 Trackster show car, including the large trapezoidal lower air intake, the location of the available fog lights and the reworking of Kia's signature grille, while the "floating" body colour panel inset into the boot has its roots based in the Trackster as well.

Broadened

Combining a longer 2,570mm wheelbase (up 20mm), overall width that's broadened to 1,800mm (increased by 15mm) and the same overall height of 1,610mm adds a more aggressive edge to the MK2 Soul's appearance. The interior benefits from soft-touch materials on the instrument panel, centre console and door panels. Finishes like soft-grain leather and piano-black trims are also available. The Soul now benefits from a larger cabin with incremental increases in front leg room (1,090mm, 20mm more than the previous Soul), rear leg room (up 5mm to 993mm), front headroom (increased 5mm to 1,006mm) and front seat shoulder room (up 7mm to 1,410mm). This improved Soul also offers a 13mm lower hip point and a step-in height that's reduced 5mm, allowing for even easier ingress and egress. Overall cargo capacity is increased from 340 to 354-litres with the rear seats in place.

Prices for this Soul are still affordable, starting at well under £13,000 for the entry-level 1.6-litre GDI petrol variant. You'll need around £16,500 for the least pricey 1.6 CRDi diesel. Beyond the stripped-out 'start' variant, the bulk of the range is based around Connect, Connect Plus, Mixx and Maxx trim levels. All models get a DAB radio, Flex Steer variable power-assisted steering, coloured-keyed bumpers, power windows and mirrors, air conditioning, USB and AUX-in ports and six airbags.

Further up the range, there are features like a premium Infiniti sound system, a reversing camera, sat nav and front speaker mood lighting, plus the contrasting roof colour and door mirror casings that will really set your car apart. The top Soul Maxx gets a huge panoramic glass roof, leather upholstery and smart key entry.

The Soul's engine efficiency has always been very good, though the figures have dropped a little over what was on offer before, presumably due to this improved model's slightly greater weight. The 1.6 GDI petrol engine makes 41.5mpg and 158g/km of CO₂, while the 1.6 CRDi diesel registers 56.5mpg and 132g/km, which falls to 47.1mpg and 158g/km in the automatic version.

Residual values for the Soul have always stood up fairly well and that has helped to put a cap on the overall price per mile figure when running one. Couple that with low insurance ratings and Kia's excellent seven year/100,000 mile warranty and it all should result in a car that's not going to put a huge dent in the family budget.

Vauxhall's Mokka is a practical car choice

By James Parker

A small, trendy little Crossover model can also be a practical choice. If you doubt that, take a drive in Vauxhall's Mokka.

Small crossovers should be fun and fashionable but that doesn't mean they can't also be versatile, capable and practical too.

Like Vauxhall's little Mokka? Perhaps. Suddenly, Vauxhall design is all about the delivery of the 'lifestyle statement'. It has been ever since General Motors belatedly realised that profit, not market share, was most important in achieving commercial respectability. And the result has been a whole wave of interesting new models – the individualistic ADAM premium supermini, the stylish Cascada convertible and our subject here, the interesting Mokka small SUV Crossover.

It's aimed directly at the one popular rival that's shaken up this sector of the market – Nissan's trendy little Juke. Wild and wacky, the Juke bought a super-sized serving of attitude to this conservatively-styled segment. But not everyone liked its wilfully outlandish looks or its cramped rear cabin. So this Mokka takes it on with a slightly more spacious supermini floorplan and fashionable cheekiness designed for wider appeal. It's a package also created to perfectly position Vauxhall against other direct segment contenders.

Under the bonnet, there are three main engine options, the most affordable, as ever, being the least desirable, the 2WD-only 115PS petrol 1.6-litre which, with only 155Nm of torque, needs to be rowed along a little with the gear lever.

A better bet for petrol people is the Mokka we tried, the 140PS 1.4-litre turbo. Sixty is just 9.4s away enroute to 118mph, so it's usefully more rapid, and there's a healthier 200Nm of torque. Despite all this and the standard inclusion of 4WD, the provision of a 6-speed gearbox and more modern mechanicals mean that this pokier 1.4 is actually cheaper to run than the feebler 1.6.

The most practical engine choice though is the 130PS 1.7-litre CDTi diesel capable of a top speed of around 116mph and rest to sixty in around 10s. You get all the main mechanical choices with this unit – so you can specify your car with 6-speed manual or automatic transmission and with or without 4WD. Perhaps more importantly, you get a lot more pulling power.

Under the skin are the underpinnings of a supermini. In the back, the rear seats benefit from wide opening doors that simplify the fitment of a child seat. As for luggage room, well, there's no high boot lip to negotiate and beyond it lies 356-litres of carriage space.

And at the wheel? Well the interior isn't overly adventurous, but this car's more conservative vibe might just mean it mops up sales from people left a bit cold by the sheer extravagance of some rivals.

Perspective

So, this Mokka's a small, trendily-styled five-door little SUV/Crossover isn't it? Well yes. So it'll be priced directly against the other car we tend of think of in this market sector, Nissan's Juke, won't it? Well, no. Vauxhall points out – correctly – that their car is a significantly larger thing – hence the price span for the range that lies in the £16,000 to £24,000 bracket. So put that into perspective for you, that means you'll be paying a price premium of around £2,500 for this Mokka over an equivalent Juke.

Perhaps the most telling comparisons though, come when, as many will, you begin to stack this Mokka up against something more conventional. Why, for example, would you buy a conventional 1.6-litre petrol-powered Vauxhall Astra family hatchback when a Mokka with exactly the same engine would save you around £1,500 and offer you more luggage space? A diesel Astra with the same 130PS 1.7-litre CDTi engine you'll find in this Mokka would also be around £1,500 more.

If you decide that it is indeed a Mokka that you actually want, then you'll be pleased to find that whichever of the five-door models you choose – 1.6-litre petrol 2WD, 1.4-litre petrol turbo 4WD or the 1.7-litre 130PS CDTi diesel in either drive configuration – it'll come well equipped.

As far as cost of ownership is concerned, it would be fair to call this Mokka 'class competitive'. As you'd expect these days, a start/stop system is fitted across the range (though only on manual gearbox models). As a result, even the oldest engine in the line-up, the 115PS 1.6-litre petrol unit returns 43.5mpg on the combined cycle and 153g/km of CO2. Stacking up even better is the Mokka in 1.7-litre CDTi 130PS diesel form. Thanks to 'Clean Tech' technology that optimises combustion control, NOx nitrogen oxide emissions are reduced and overall efficiency is dramatically improved.

True, this isn't the sharpest handling car of its kind. Nor is it as affordable as some might expect – but that's only an issue if your comparison is with something smaller, much less well equipped and probably more feebly powered.

With styling and size almost perfectly pitched, it's practical, well equipped, affordable to run and, in 4x4 form, seasonally capable too. A car with an appeal that builds as your interest in it grows.

Ford C-Max hits the spot

Compromise doesn't have to be a dirty word. In fact, intelligent compromise is exactly what underpins the design of Ford's C-MAX compact MPV.

Here's a car that needs to be big enough to fit family and luggage but not so big that it's too hard to pilot around town or park. It requires an engine with the torque to move a fully loaded car but not one that's so thirsty that the family purse strings are going to be stretched to breaking point. It would need all the modern safety and convenience features that buyers demand, but pricing that isn't out of reach of wage packets that already have school uniforms to buy and hungry mouths to feed.

Hitting the sweet spot in all of those decisions and many others beside is where the expertise lies and is the reason why the C-MAX is one of the biggest selling cars in its class.

The C-MAX was always an easy pick for anyone who enjoyed driving. It was by far the best car in its class when showed a B-road. Now that the Golf SV is around, that superiority is no longer quite so cut and dried, but it's still a class act. Particular attention this time round has been paid to improving refinement. The star of the engine line-up is the 120PS 1.5-litre TDCi diesel engine, seen for the first time in the C-MAX, replacing the old 1.6-litre unit. Power goes up by five per cent while emissions drop by six points. There are also the multi-award winning 1.0-litre EcoBoost petrol engines, offered once again in 100 and 125PS outputs. The big banger in the range is a revised 2.0-litre diesel.

Contemporary

The design of this C-MAX is evolutionary, with many of the details being brought up to date to reflect contemporary Ford thinking. The dynamic styling delivers a stronger, sleeker front end, featuring Ford's distinctive inverted trapezoidal grille. The washer jets have been hidden underneath the windscreen to give a cleaner look while the tailgate has been given a smoother and more sophisticated one-piece appearance.

Inside, you'll find a dash that's a lot less fussy than the previous model. There are fewer controls and switches, while the new black satin trim and chrome detailing contributes to a cleaner look. Functions are simpler to use, such as the air-conditioning controls. Practically improves too, with a redesigned centre storage console. The seats still tumble down individually in one motion to create a flat floor, with over 470-litres of space with all five seats in place.

Ford has gone quite big on electronic gizmos in this latest iteration of the C-MAX. The last model also had a lot of smart tech features and Ford rightly left most of them on the options list, giving customers the choice of whether they wanted to pay extra or not for these nice-to-haves. You can now get one of those tailgate openers which operate when you wave your foot under the bumper.

There's also a perpendicular parking system and Active City Stop collision avoidance that operates at up to 31mph. Ford's latest Sync2 voice-activated connectivity system is also on offer, delivering smartphone sync and the chance to control some of the car's minor functions by voice command. The clearer eight-inch colour touchscreen is a welcome addition. Ford also brings us MyKey technology, which lets parents set a top speed and limit stereo volume in advance to prevent the young 'uns getting a bit overexcited.

The diesel models really come into their own when you're willing to put some miles on the clock. If you want the C-MAX as a school run and shopping vehicle, you'd be better advised going for one of the economical 1.0-litre petrol models as they're priced so cheaply as to be a more cost-effective purchase. Really leverage the economy benefits of the diesel engine though and you'll save big. The 1.5-litre TDCi diesel returns a combined fuel economy figure of better than 65mpg. Go for the 2.0-litre and it will also get around 60mpg. Insurance reflects the C-MAX's family owner profile, excellent safety and security record and low cost of repairs. The 1.6-litre model is expected to be rated at just Group 16E.

Car group adopts charity

Midlands largest and newest car Supermarket Group AvailableCAR, is to work with and support the Acorns Children's Hospice.

Having successfully raised hundreds of thousands of pounds for various charities already at their other supermarket locations, AvailableCAR chose Acorns for its work with life limited and life threatened children in the West Midlands.

AvailableCAR has already trained all their Team Members to help raise as much money as possible for Acorns by asking each customer if they can kindly add up to £5 onto every car sale made at their new Cannock branch (located at Cannock on the A5 at the former Motorhouse2000 site).

The £5 gift is optional for customers to pay, however from past experience, AvailableCAR has found that the vast majority of customers are more than happy to help such a great cause and many donate even more.

For each charity donation, AvailableCAR then match the contribution and all funds go straight towards the general running costs to support the charity's three hospices in Selly Oak in Birmingham, Walsall and Worcester.

Since June this year, AvailableCAR has managed to raise £8,300 and the figure for the year should reach an expected £45,000.

Paul Arscott, operations director said: "We are delighted to be working with Acorns and hopefully will start to make some significant contributions to this fantastic resource for so many families located across the region."

Laura Richards, Acorns Children's Hospice corporate fundraising officer, said: "We are so grateful for the support of AvailableCAR and its customers."

"We rely on fundraising and donations to keep our services running, which cost £750 per child per day, so this kind of support is vital for us."

The Acorns donation scheme is now in-place at the AvailableCAR Cannock branch and customers and visitors are welcome to come down and find out more.

New Fabia all set for launch

By David Banner

Škoda has announced prices and equipment specifications for the all-new, third-generation Fabia. And, just as the original Fabia did 14 years ago, the new model is set to redefine sector expectations for quality, efficiency and equipment. The 18-model Fabia range arrives in the UK in January and is offered in three trim levels: S, SE and Elegance, with prices starting from just £10,600 on-the-road.

Entry-level S models include six airbags, DAB digital radio, Bluetooth, Stop/Start and electric front windows as standard, while SE models (from £12,760 on-the-road) add manual air-conditioning, alloy wheels, Front assist, Arkamys surround sound package and Bolero radio with telephone control, Mirror Link, USB and SD card connections.

SE models also include a three-spoke leather steering wheel, height adjustable driver and passenger seat and a Maxi-DOT trip computer. Range-topping Elegance models (from £13,610 on-the-road) add even more features including, 16-inch alloy wheels, climate control air-conditioning, Light assistant, cruise control and KESSY – keyless entry system.

'We're delighted to be announcing final details of our Fabia range as the car makes its public debut.'

In addition to its generous equipment levels, the new Fabia features a striking new look, sector-best practicality, greater efficiency and a host of Simply Clever innovations. Utilising advanced MQB platform architecture, the new Fabia performs the impossible by being larger and stronger than its best-selling predecessor, yet tipping the scales at up to 65kg less. This significant reduction, along with the introduction of cleaner EU6-compliant engines makes the new Fabia up to 17 per cent more efficient.

The new Fabia also features a new personalisation programme that offers customers the chance to create their perfect car. The Colour Concept system allows owners to become designers, with 15 different body colours, and a number of wheel, roof and exterior mirror colour options. Buyers will also be able to choose from three interior trim styles.

In terms of space and practicality, the new Fabia's interior is longer and larger than in the outgoing model, with all occupants also enjoying increased headroom. Although the new model is 8 mm shorter than its predecessor, its interior length has increased by around 8 mm to 1,674 mm. Elbow room is also greater at 1,401 mm (21 mm wider) at the front and 1,386 mm (2 mm wider) at the rear.

Bigger

The boot is the largest within the car's segment. The boot has a capacity of 330 litres (15 litres more than the outgoing model) and is considerably bigger than comparable competitors' models. With the rear seats folded down, the load capacity increases to 1,150 litres.

Škoda brand director Alasdair Stewart said: 'We're delighted to be announcing final details of our Fabia range as the car makes its public debut. The Fabia enjoys a loyal following in the UK and it has been our most popular model with buyers. I'm confident that the new car with its reduced running costs and high equipment levels will continue to be in-demand with new and existing customers alike.'

Cannock comeback shares the points

Southgate 1 Cannock 1
AFTER gaining maximum points from their previous away games Cannock Men's First Team were looking to make it nine points from nine as they headed to newly promoted Southgate.

Southgate's John Sterlini put them one up after 21 minutes following some early pressure. In Cannock's first bit of good build-up play, Harry Jawanda smashed the ball against the bar.

Arjun Drayton Chana then equalised just before half time. The second half was very scrappy. There was no real control from either team but Southgate won five penalty corners to Cannock's one.

In the Midlands Leagues, Cannock's seven league sides were all victorious. The second Team beat Olton & West Warwick 4-1; the thirds continued to bang in the goals with a 2-9 win at Sutton Coldfield. The fourths beat Northampton Saints 6-0; the fifths got back to winning ways with a 0-2 win at Edgbaston.

The sixths narrowly beat Bridgnorth fifths 2-1 and the sevenths won 0-2 away to Finchfield 4ths. In the Challenge League the eighths drew 1-1 with Aldridge & Walsal.

Downing has grown, says boss

DEAN SMITH said young Walsall defender Paul Downing has grown as a player throughout this season.

The Saddlers boss has also been hugely impressed with the 22-year-old's "brilliant" reaction to last month's thrashing at Rochdale, when he came in for fierce criticism along with the rest of the defence after the Saddlers conceded four without reply.

At the time, Smith described Downing as being "tortured" during the game but since then the former Albion youth-teamer has gone on to produce consistently strong performances.

"It's brilliant how he reacted to it and how he has kept on reacting to it,"

Brereton are through to quarter finals

Brereton Town Cup Round Two
BRERETON Town go through to the quarter finals after knocking out Wheatshaf 4-2. They last won their own cup way back in 1995

Ridware Oak knocked out Wyrley Juniors 2-0. Two first half goals from Richard Knight and a Jack Turner penalty put them through.

Nelson Inn knocked out Victoria 4-3. Thanks to a late winner from Anthony Cape. Gavin Jones, Shaun Daley and Liam Degville all scored. Hawkins Sports knocked out Talbot 3-1 with two goals from Kieron Northwood and one from Simeon Smith.

Cannock Chase Football League

Premier League

Littleton fought back with two late goals to beat Rugeley Utd 4-3 and go top of the league. A Matty Allport penalty and a goal from Tom Kent put the Littleton 2-1 up but then found themselves soon behind 3-2 before Ricky Clifton equalised and then a super 40 yard worldy from Matty Allport late on to win the game.

Third placed Brereton Lion beat Dynamo Lamb 2-0 with a goal each for Beckham Foulton and Steve Allen. Harrisons beat CK77 3-1 to remain fourth. John Letford bagged two and a goal for Mitch Clarke.

Division One

Leaders Chase Spartans were held to a 1-1 draw against Bar Sports. AFC Jubilee have folded. The four teams that have beaten them will have their points and goals taken off.

Division Two

Hen House climb to third after beating Winding Wheel 6-2. Lee Garrington scored 5 goals with Jack Connolly adding the other one.

AFC Social beat the Slade 1-0 thanks to their new hero Luke Walters who scored on his debut.

Jubilee thrashed Bow Street 7-3. Both Ash Bently and Josh Pilkington were left to fight over the match ball by scoring a hat trick each. Daryl Commons added one with Man of the Match to Brett Lilburn.

Division Three

Green Heath beat Essington 2-0. Solders drew 5-5 with The Castle.

Pear Tree beat Cannock Social 3-1. Cannock Rangers beat The Bridge 5-2. White Lion climb to second with a 3-2 win over Glassworks. Mitch Preece, Russ Ambrose and Richard Tapper all scored.

Bishops prove to be kings of the castle

Bishops Castle 7 Cannock 1sts 0
CANNOCK kicked off and early pressure from the back row gave the visitors a turnover in possession.

Iain Whitmell nearly broke through as did Scott Pedley but the hosts scrambled defence worked well. Skipper Freeman opted for a scrum when admittedly peer pressure got the better and three points should have been taken.

Cannock continued to dominate the game. However, inconsistencies with all decisions seemingly going in the host's favour were to frustrate the away side all the game. The one time Bishops entered Cannock's 22 they scored. Three Sloppy missed tackles allowed the fly half to bounce over and he converted too.

In the second half Cannock carried on dominating. The frustrating thing was there was no end result.

No real command meant Cannock kept on with the same attacking method and the home side were wise to it. Still illegally contesting the breakdowns with no decision against meant they kept clearing their lines.

The one real chance of the half fell to Will Jukes. An interception and break away meant he would have scored but the play was called back. Cannock attacked and the home side repelled. Cannock now looks ahead to Bromyard this week. The Seconds were at home against a strong King's Norton side.

A 12-14 loss with tries from Dave Lovell and Al Richard and a Dan Clarke conversion. Rugeley 3rds 29 Cannock 3rds 19

A thrilling end to end

game took place with bursting runs from Ryan "tugboat" Lindsay, James Murphy and the ever present Paul Moore.

Cannock had the upper hand in the early stages with Lockett chipping through and the resulting move saw Alan Graham brought down in Rugeley's 22. From there a breakout move saw Rugeley score.

Thus began a period of Rugeley dominating the match with some tough defending and relenting pressure saw them score again. From there Cannock finally got going, and sustained pressure saw Alan Sindrey score in the corner.

Rugeley started the second half with great gusto and soon scored another try, now Cannock had to chase the game 19-7, however it was Rugeley who struck again to make the score 24-7.

This seemed to spur Cannock and Ryan Lindsay to score. This followed with another quick try as James Murphy went over. Rugeley had the last word with their County centre crashing through.

Peach of a game as Burntwood keep Holt of gifts

Burntwood's Aza Dunet tries to fight his way through the Willenhall defence during the match

Willenhall 18 Burntwood 23

TWO tries from skipper Ben Holt, both gifts, and 13 points from Will Peach provided the points for Burntwood but it was their disciplined defence, particularly in the second half, which earned the win at Bognop Road.

Probing kicks by the hosts pinned the visitors back from the kick off but full back Brett Taylor dealt with them well.

When Willenhall tried to run the ball out Holt intercepted to race to the line for his first try, converted by Peach.

Willenhall hit back. The Burntwood defence did well to hold out but finally a loose pass allowed the hosts to exploit an overlap on the right for an unconverted try.

Willenhall were caught offside and Peach kicked the penalty goal.

He was on target again five minutes later and racked up another success in the 35th minute.

This promising lead was eaten into when Willenhall scored their second try. Much of the second period took part in the Burntwood half. The first score was a penalty goal. The visitors were hanging on to their slender lead and were gifted a second try.

A series of phases created an overlap for a Willenhall try but no conversion.

Young tagged in game for fun

Willenhall U-8s 9 Cannock Lions U-8s 5

CANNOCK U-8s were hosted by Willenhall to take part in a Tag Rugby development game.

With the main objective of the game being enjoyment Cannock were soon dominating showing a continuity of sportsmanship and team work.

After conceding the first few tries changes were made.

Newcomers Rory Lugg, Liam Bartam and William Seymore showed teamwork like no others, shadowing each other in support both through attack and defence.

Brady Rounds showed amazing self discipline and was solid in defence.

Both Finlay Taylor and Harry Forrester showed that they had the speed, determination and moves to regularly break the defensive line of Willenhall and contributed greatly to the Cannock score sheet on more than one occasion.

Cannock's trio of ladies Katya Trow, Evie Buckle and Hannah Baker worked collectively to demonstrate that the Cannock Lionesses are no pussycats, attacking Willenhall again and again with several great runs weaving in and out past their opposition.

Mantom recovery goes well

MANAGER Dean Smith has claimed Sam Mantom has taken a big step on the road to recovery after the Walsall midfielder returned to training.

The 22-year-old has not kicked a ball this season after suffering a knee ligament injury in the summer.

After seeing Mantom suffer several setbacks in his bid to regain fitness, Smith is remaining understandably cautious but does not believe it will take last year's player of the season long to get up to speed.

"It's a big step to get him on the training ground and in among the players again," said Smith.

"The only thing which will be missing is match fitness."

US striker Agudelo's a no-go

WOLVES have released American striker Juan Agudelo after citing a lack of match fitness as a factor.

The Colombian-born 21-year-old had been training with Wolves as a free agent since October 7 while efforts continued to pursue a work permit and played one friendly, a 2-0 defeat at QPR on October 10.

The striker was seeking to gain a Cypriot passport in order to qualify for a work permit, a process that would have taken at least six weeks.

But head coach Kenny Jackett said Wolves are not going to keep him.

"Juan is not a player we're going to pursue," said Jackett. "We felt match fitness was the key for Juan."

Grace and Becky hit first club goals

Kendal Ladies 3 Cannock Ladies 2

CANNOCK started positively following their long trek to Kendal, but fell behind as the hosts converted a penalty corner.

Cannock battled back to equalise through Louise Humphrey but it was Kendal who took the advantage again in the second half.

However, 10 minutes later it was all square when Nicola Martin found the net. Sustained pressure from Cannock followed and they forced a series of penalty corners. But they couldn't find the net and it was a Kendal break with five minutes to go which yielded the decisive goal.

Cannock Women's Hockey

Edgbaston Ladies 1 Cannock 2nds 1

CANNOCK are unbeaten this season and hoped to continue this spell with a tricky away fixture at Edgbaston, who share the same league position.

Edgbaston put Cannock under enormous pressure, which was dealt with, while driving runs by Sarah Drayton-Chana led to attempts on goal from Sophie Tibbett and Gemma Brookes which failed to hit the target. Edgbaston managed to counter attack and win a penalty corner midway through the first half which gave them the lead.

In the last few minutes man of the match Jess Smith slotted home a failed clearance from a penalty corner leaving the game drawn at 1-1.

Cannock Ladies 3rds 3 Stafford 2nds 2
 CANNOCK remain top of Staffs Division 1 going into the half-term break.

The hosts started well but a mistake at the back allowed Stafford to take the lead.

A difficult half proceeded but goals from Jess Bailey and Leah Smith gave Cannock a 2-1 lead. A heated half-time break saw Can-nock out firing and Bev Cartledge gave them a 3-1 lead. Stafford pulled a goal back but Cannock held on to win 3-2.

Tamworth Ladies 4ths 0 Cannock 5ths 5
 CANNOCK held on to the top position in their league with a 5-0 away win.

April Waterman open the scoring in the first half, but it wasn't until the second half that the goals flowed.

Jasmine Rainer scored twice then two young players, Grace Bennett and Becky Chapman, notched their first goals.

Cannock remain top of Division 4, with 12 points from five games.

Third victory on the bounce eludes Pitmen

Hednesford Town1 Bradford Park Avenue 1
HEDNESFORD were unable to make it three wins on the bounce at home in all competitions after being pegged back.

After defeating Hyde 4-1 the previous weekend and Tamworth 2-1 in the Birmingham Senior Cup in midweek, The Pitmen were looking to once again utilise home advantage as they entertained Bradford Park Avenue.

It was the visitors who started the livelier of the two teams and they almost took the lead inside the opening 60 seconds with striker Chib Chilaka seeing his headed effort pushed onto the crossbar by Town goalkeeper Dan Crane.

It would be Hednesford that would strike first. A Tom Thorley cross was knocked down to Marvin Robinson and the experienced striker shot home from six-yards out to net his second goal of the season.

Although the visitors had plenty of possession they did little with it and but for a handful of free kicks and corners the Town defence was rarely troubled.

Four minutes before the break the home side nearly doubled their lead when James Crowther saw his looped effort just pushed away for a corner by Avenue keeper John Danby. This spurred Town on and they ended the half the stronger of the two teams.

Hednesford almost made it 2-0 nine minutes into the second period as Ben Bailey bundled an effort towards goal which was cleared off the line by Billy Priestly, with the home side appealing that the defender had used his arm to stop the ball finding the back of the net.

Just before the hour mark a good chance arrived for Avenue substitute Richard Marshall as he got on the end of a cross at the back post but his header just went wide of the goal.

Bailey was then called into action, making a brave block in the 69th minute as substitute Lamin Colley tried to fire into the far corner after a good combination of passes with Marshall.

The visitors continued to press forward at regular intervals and it came as no surprise when they equalised in the 72nd minute. A cross into the Town box found the unmarked Priestly who powered his effort home past Crane and into the net.

In the final 15 minutes both sides pushed forward in search of a winner but in truth neither tested either opposing goalkeeper with Crane having to make a simple collection of a headed effort whilst at the other end Bailey saw a long range effort almost deceive Danby, but the Avenue custodian gathered the ball.

Marvin Robinson loses out on this occasion during the match against Bradford Park which ended in a draw

A high five for speedier Lye side

Heath Hayes 0

Lye Town 5
 HEATH Hayes struggled from the start against a very quick Lye side who showed pace from the start with Russel and Anslow giving Hayes back four a torrid time.

Lye took the lead on five minutes after good work by Richard Anslow laying the ball into the path of Daniel Jones who took his chance and fired home to open the scoring.

Four minutes later Billy Russell was bought down for a penalty which Damian Whitcombe put away to set Lye on course for what would turn out to be a rout.

On 30 minutes things got worse for Hayes when Tom Baggot received a red card for a tug on Russell.

Hayes completed a miserable first half when Harry Phillips' diving header found its way past his own keeper for the best own goal seen on our ground for many a year.

The second half continued much as the first with Hayes keeper Tom Burns making two fantastic saves before Mark Danks added the final two goals in the 70th and 80th minutes.

Heath Hayes are at home to Stoke City on October 28.

Trotters give Clark the Blues

Blues 0 Bolton 1

BIRMINGHAM City boss Lee Clark was left to rue yet another disappointing afternoon at St Andrew's.

Matt Mills' first-half header was enough to seal the win for Neil Lennon in his first game in charge of Bolton.

Former Celtic boss Lennon, however, was also sent to the stands while Blues had to battle with 10 men after goalkeeper Darren Randolph's red card.

The decisive goal came in the 20th minute as Mills lost his marker to power home a header from Jay Spearing's cross at a corner.

"I thought we were worth something," said Clark. "We gave a really poor goal away."

Chase leave it late for winner

Chasetown 3 Rokester 2

THE Scholars turned the game on its head in the final six minutes to progress to the next round of the Staffordshire Senior Cup.

Simon Brown converted an 84th minute penalty to level the tie at 2-2 before substitute Mitchell McDonald scored a goal that would grace any game.

He came racing through to beat goalkeeper Richard Froggatt to the ball and skipping past the Rokester keeper to fire the ball into the roof of the net from a tight angle.

Rokester had taken an eighth minute lead when Liam Shaw directed a free header beyond debutant Curtis Pond, but Chasetown levelled nine minutes later when Theo Robinson fired home from a Danny Edwards cross.

The visitors regained the lead in atrocious weather conditions when Dan Brown's shot squirmed in at the keeper's right hand post and almost made it 3-1 at half-time when Pond pulled off a top save to deny Brown his second.

Brown's penalty after he was fouled himself and McDonald's late winner ensured the home fans, at least, went home the happier of the two sets of supporters.

Kenny wants more of Sagbo

WOLVES boss Kenny Jackett admits he expected more from Yannick Sagbo.

The 26-year-old on-loan Hull forward has made three appearances in his three-month stint so far without looking like scoring.

Head coach Jackett admits Sagbo, who is eligible for a recall next week, also looks short of sharpness.

"We were hoping he'd make an immediate impact - he wasn't brought in with us thinking 'we need three months with this guy'," said the boss. "It was with the intention that he could come in straight away. But he needs games to get to his sharpest."

"He looks short of match practice and he's been a substitute with me playing mainly Dave Edwards and Nouha Dicko."

Jackett hinted the Ivory Coast international must do more to earn more minutes.

Defenders must get tougher, warns Jackett

FRUSTRATED Kenny Jackett has ordered his Wolves defenders to toughen up to stop the flood of goals against them after they gave up a usual game-winning three goal lead.

Saturday's see-saw 3-3 draw at Millwall made it 11 goals conceded in the last four games after just three in eight beforehand and has left boss Jackett facing questions about Wolves' defence.

The Wanderers side threw away a 3-0 lead after set-piece efforts from Danny Bath, Ethan Ebanks-Landell and Bakary Sako inside 64 minutes were cancelled out by Lee Gregory and a brace from veteran substitute Ricardo Fuller.

Football

And following the late collapse, Jackett wants his defensive players to be stronger to deal with the physical side of the Championship which is only going to get tougher as the season heads towards its climax.

"There are a lot of headers and a lot of first and second balls you have to deal with in this division, and you have to be big enough and strong enough to cope with that," said the head coach. There was a physical pressure right along our back four all of the time and it's something we haven't withstood particularly well.

"We had to deal with a hell of a lot of long balls on Saturday," added Jackett after the game.

Jackett changed half of his back four for the return to his old club, dropping ever-present Richard Stearman and Scott Golbourne to the bench as Ebanks-Landell made his first appearance in the Championship and Tommy Rowe was switched to left-back.

"I wouldn't say they (goals against) are all down to one person but it was disappointing," said Jackett.

"It's something we need to improve upon. "If you're going to pick up points on a regular basis you need to concede zeros and ones."

"Conceding three can't happen too often if you want to be successful."

Wolves now face being fined by the FA after having six players booked during the clash on Saturday, while Millwall had one player booked and Shaun Williams was sent off at the death.

Marvel Marvin makes it

Willenhall Town 1 Sporting Khalsa 2

A brilliant strike from Sporting Khalsa's Marvin Nisbett would prove to be the decider in a tight encounter soured by a double sending off in the final stages.

Khalsa scored first on eight minutes when some sloppy Town defending allowed Nicky Campbell to slot home.

On 53 minutes Nisbett grabbed the second of the game. Carlo Franco was the architect, breaking up a Willenhall attack and feeding Campbell who set up Nisbett to control and smash home a swerving and dipping shot from 25 yards.

Andy Dicken almost put the game beyond reach on 67 minutes, putting a header over the bar, and then Campbell fluffed his lines when clear through, opting to try to round the keeper rather than shoot.

With nine minutes on the clock, a Graham Ashton header from a Willenhall corner hit the crossbar and Damian Charlie tapped home to set up a tight finish.

Campbell almost grabbed his second but Kingsley Burrows-Fields cleared.

Dean: I made the Butler call

WALSALL boss Dean Smith's last minute change of heart saw him sign Michael Cain and let Andy Butler return to Sheffield United.

The Saddlers boss sprang a surprise by signing 20-year-old midfielder Cain on loan from Leicester City, while letting his ex-skipper go back to the Blades.

PITMEN PAY FOR POOR FINISHING

Walsall Wood 2 Hednesford Town 1

HEDNESFORD Town crashed out of the Staffordshire Senior Cup to Midland League Premier Division Walsall Wood.

The game at Oak Park was played out in possibly the worst conditions you could have for a game, as the remnants of Hurricane Gonzalo brought driving rain, relentless wind and a disappointing result to the hardy Pitmen souls who braved the weather.

The Walsall Wood supporters however, celebrated wildly their team's victory as two second half goals from Leon Taylor and Drew Aiton made The Pitmen pay for some wasteful finishing throughout the match.

Steve Diggin, while still possessing a touch of class and with his back to goal, failed to bring his proverbial shooting boots as he saw a glorious chance to score saved on 29 minutes.

Footing

A Walsall Wood defender lost his footing in the difficult conditions shortly after Jamey Osborne had capitalised on a similar mistake only to find Dale Faultless equal to his shot.

Lee Stretton headed wide when well-placed for the home side as the torrential rain soaked the watching spectators, some of whom retreated to the relative warmth of the bar.

Darren Campion's corner was hacked off the line by the home side, Ben Bailey hesitated as the ball was held up in the wind and Taylor slotted home to open the scoring.

Hednesford continued to create the better chances but to Walsall Wood's credit they showed honourable heart and desire to defend stoutly and, as the Pitmen's attempts got more desperate, the game was settled when Aiton powered the ball past Ryan Price on 85 minutes.

A late scrambled goal by Tom Peers forced a desperate push for an equaliser from the Pitmen but the home team managed to hold on for victory.

It's the Sako and Dicko show for Wolves

Wolves' Bakary Sako makes it 1-0 from the penalty spot after team mate Dicko was brought down

Wolves 2 Middlesbrough 0
IT was a welcome return for the Bakary Sako and Nouha Dicko show again as Wolves ended their recent wobble by returning to winning ways.

Sako and Dicko - the Mali combination that inspired a South Bank song and so many victories in the spring as Kenny Jackett's side marched to the League One title - scored the goals as Wolves won for the first time in five attempts. They also kept their first clean sheet in six outings to end Middlesbrough's seven-match unbeaten run in a highly satisfactory evening for Jackett's side.

Galvanised by the industry of James Henry and Dicko and the probing of a rejuvenated Kevin McDonald, Wolves never looked back once Dicko doubled the lead given to them by Sako's 33rd-minute penalty.

Just past the half hour came the penalty when Sako and Dicko combined on the right, the former releasing the latter who drove into the area only to be pushed to the ground by former Wolves left-back George Friend.

Sako needed no further invitation to score his seventh goal of the season.

In the second half Dicko took centre stage to score a superb second.
